MACHINE MEN TURN ATTENTION TO CORPORATIONS

Police Magistrate Armstrong and Recorder Brown Tried to Give Orders to Official of Pittsburgh Brewing Company.

AUDITOR GENERAL'S OFFICE USED AS A CLUB

Every possible pressure is being brought to bear upon corporation heads to have them compel their employes to vote the postscript ticket. One has even been threatened that the auditor general's office would increase the state tax of his company $100,000.

So desperate is the position of the machine that its leaders go to any length to get votes. They are ready to cry or threaten, as the case may need, and this applies to the big fellows as well as to the small.

JOHN H. ARMSTRONG, Police Magistrate.

Senator William Flinn and Recorder J. O. Brown have found it necessary to make personal appeals to have men coaxed or driven to the ballot box.

E. J. McLaughlin, an official of the Phoenix brewery, one of the plants of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company, tells an interesting story of how Police Magistrate John H. Armstrong and Recorder J. O. Brown tried to influence him to support the machine ticket in the Twentieth ward.

Demand a Boomerang.

Both failed, and Mr. McLaughlin is exerting every energy to assist in piling up a Larkin majority.

"Armstrong was the first to come to me," said Mr. McLaughlin. "He pleaded with me and then threatened. I asked him why he was so eager to secure votes for the ring, reminding him that but a few years ago he stood on the floor of common council and opposed the machine. I told him that his change in heart was experienced when he received a police magistracy at $2,500 a year. I also informed him that it would take a bigger man than he to force me into line for Flinn. When he left he declared that he would fix me."

"Armstrong then went to the headquarters of the brewing company and tried to have my superiors drive me into the machine camp. My employers are not men of that kind. They do not stand with lash in hand. He was told that I could exercise my right of franchise as I chose.

Recorder Brown Came.

"Armstrong did send a bigger man to pull me into the Flinn column.

"J. O. Brown, the recorder of Pittsburgh came. He asked me to assist the machine in the Twentieth ward.

"I refused, and I am doing everything I can for the 'Citizens' ticket.' That the postscript governor is doing everything in his power to help the machine win, is openly admitted by Flinn leaders. One of them stood in a hotel the other day and boasted how corporations were being whipped into line by the auditor general's office.

"It is through this department that the state tax on corporations are collected. The Flinn mouthpiece in question said that he knew of a head of a big corporation who was friendly to the election of Larkin. The machine sent a man to see this corporation manager. He was told that if he did not switch his employes against Larkin his taxes would be made burdensome. He at first refused, but they finally threatened to add $100,000 to his burden.

Gave Way Perforce.

The man knew that the governor and the entire state machinery stood back of the local bulldozers and he gave in. Other corporations are being treated to the same medicine.

If it is desired, The Gazette can give the name of the machine lieutenant that made this statement.

In one department of the Westinghouse plant at East Pittsburgh there are employed 880 men. They reside in the East End wards. Their superintendent has great influence among them. Police Magistrate John H. Armstrong and another machine lieutenant tried to have him order these employes to vote the machine ticket. The superintendent paid no attention to their commands.

In the course of a few days the superintendent received a formal communication from the headquarters of the company. It was followed by a telephone message not to pay any attention to the order.

Later Senator Flinn is credited with having called the superintendent up on the telephone. In his brusque way he wanted to know if the order had been received and carried out.

The official said that it had, and he would obey it. The superintendent then went among his men. They were asked if they were not working for Larkin. He was informed that they were, and the superintendent told them to continue.

Doubtful Amusement.

SANTOS-DUMONT CLOSE TO DEATH IN HIS AIRSHIP

Guide Rope Became Entangled in Propeller Yesterday and the Aeronaut Pulled Emergency Cord.

RESCUED BY A PRINCE BEFORE A BIG CROWD

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MONACO, Feb. 14.—Santos-Dumont, the aeronaut, met with a disaster here today and had a narrow escape from death. His airship is a tattered wreck, while, tonight, his motor lies at the bottom of the Bay of Monaco.

The morning broke gloriously, but, as there was considerable wind, Santos-Dumont decided not to attempt a flight. Toward 2 o'clock in the afternoon, however, the wind dropped and the weather seemed perfect for a trial. With the exception of an ominous little cloud hanging over the hill called Tete de Chien, which overlooks the bay, the sky was clear and blue. At this hour Santos-Dumont announced that he would make a trip in his airship.

Crowd Watched the Trial.

A big crowd assembled at the entrance of the Aerodrome and, as the large doors of the building rolled back, the airship emerged at 2:40 o'clock. A number of steam yachts and launches, including the prince of Monaco's yacht, Princess Alice, and a launch belonging to Eugene Higgins, with gay parties on board, were cruising about the bay with the intention of following the balloon. Cheers greeted the aeronaut, as his airship rose and its head pointed for the middle of the bay.

It was soon noticed, however, that instead of maintaining its usual equilibrium the balloon rose and pitched in a way that created considerable anxiety among the spectators.

Aeronaut Undaunted.

The aeronaut, however, kept on his flight and pointing his ship to the left continued to ascend until the long guide rope was quite 50 feet out of the water.

In turning the balloon the guide rope caught in the screw, and this, together with the erratic steering of the airship, created a situation of great danger. At the same time a squall burst from Tete de Chien and Santos-Dumont tilted the head of his balloon upward in order to disengage the guide rope. But in so doing the ballast shifted and the oil used to run the motor began to spread. Fearing an explosion the inventor pulled the emergency cord. This ripped the envelope of the balloon, which at once began to descend rapidly.

Calm in an Emergency.

The inventor did not lose his head. He could be seen distinctly from the shore watching the various parts of the airship. At this time the balloon, still slightly righted itself and the lower part, having become empty, the airship dropped sightly toward the pigeon shooting ground, which borders the bay. In front of these grounds there lies a roof of sharp rocks and the excitement on shore became intense as apprehensions arose that the strange craft would drift on these rocks and its helmsman be dashed to pieces. In the meanwhile the steam launches in the bay were making toward the spot where it was supposed the balloon would fall.

The first to approach was the Princess Alice, belonging to the Prince of Monaco, and those on board seized the balloon's guide rope, which somehow had become disentangled. At the moment Ville Rose drew a short crackling sound made by the motor, could be heard, and the army was soon again to perform. The balloon, which was then almost in the sea, rose steadily for a few moments. But the motor stopped again and the airship descended a second time until Santos-Dumont was immersed up to his armpits in the water.

This scene was witnessed with intense excitement by the onlookers, inshore and afloat. The aeronaut, with the pluck which has characterized him throughout his dangerous experiments, could be seen standing up in his car gesticulating and shouting directions to those on the launch which was towing him toward the Princess Alice.

SANTOS-DUMONT, Aeronaut.

Dragged on Board a Launch.

At 2:55 the end of the balloon burst, and the prince of Monaco, who was on board the launch, then gave orders to rescue Santos-Dumont from his perilous position. The launch thereupon ran alongside the half deflated balloon of the airship which threatened at any moment to smother Santos-Dumont. The latter was half pulled and half clambered over the gunwale into the boat.

AN ANGLOPHOBE RAISES A RUMPUS IN LOWER HOUSE

Calls on President to Boot Secretary Hay Out of Cabinet.

FORCED INTO CORNER BY THE REPUBLICANS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.—The monotony of a private pension day of the house was enlivened today by a very sensational speech from Mr. Wheeler of Kentucky in denunciation of what he denominated "flunkeyism" to foreign countries.

His speech aroused the house to a high pitch of excitement and elicited from Mr. Boutell of Illinois a spirited defense of Secretary Hay, whom he eulogized in high terms. Several other members on the Republican side took a hand and later in the afternoon Mr. Grosvenor took Mr. Wheeler to task for his "inopportune protest."

"Until the inauguration of the president in 1897 there never was any division of sentiment upon one great question," said Mr. Wheeler in opening his speech, "and that was the splendid isolation of the republic and its fixed determination to hold aloof from all entangling alliances with foreign powers.

Alleged British Conspiracy.

"Then the belief and fixed judgment of well nigh every patriotic citizen were overturned and for the first time we witnessed a president of the United States, aided and egged on by a pitiable flunkey in the state department, stretching his arms across the water to embrace the historic enemies of the American people. From that good hour until now we have made ourselves a laughing stock at every court in Europe because of our flunkeyism, our truculency and the disgraceful sycophancy of the representatives of the republic at the feet of Great Britain.

"And now, when it serves the purpose of some other great nation, the pitiable spectacle is presented that we have been hugging to our bosom during the last five years a nation that has systematically and persistently attempted to destroy the liberties of the American people since the battle of Yorktown.

Would Have Hay Routed Out.

"We find now, despite the fact that the present administration is afraid, even in the face of its great majority, to ask an appropriation of $50,000 or $100,000 to pay some shoulder-strapped, gold-laced flunkey to cross the water and bow the knee and kiss the hand of some English king, that while this very pitiable spectacle is being presented to us, it is being heralded abroad that in 1898, when we were seeking to strike the shackles of serfdom from off the heels of Cuba, that nation was then secretly in our own capital attempting to form a coalition of the great powers of the world to prevent that interposition.

"I have a respect for the present occupant of the White House, I frankly avow. I think he is too honest to be palatable to the average Republican partisan; and I indulge the hope that a lingering element of Americanism will induce him at the first opportunity to boot out that man in the state department who, in my judgment, has brought us to this humiliating condition.

A Shy at Prince Henry.

"In the next few days we are to have a brother of a ruler come over to this country and take charge of a little tug, ship, vessel, or yacht, whatever you please to term it, built by some people up in New York. We are appropriating thousands of dollars and the anglomaniacs and the European maniacs are falling over one another to get to see a little Dutchman come over and take charge of a little ship (applause on the Democratic side).

Mr. Gillett of Massachusetts—Does the gentleman criticise the Democratic administration of Buchanan in receiving the Prince of Wales?

Mr. Wheeler—That is a very different thing. (Laughter and derisive cries on the Republican side.) We received him not as we are receiving this man, if I recollect right, but he came as the official head of his government.

Mr. Grosvenor—On the contrary, he came under another name, and the attendant that was with him came incognito also, coming as a mere private citizen, and was taken charge of by the government during his entire stay in the United States and dined at the White House by a Democratic president at a time when Democracy meant something.

Mr. Wheeler—If the gentleman is correct, then I condemn in unmeasured terms the attitude of that Democratic administration.

NO CRIME TO ATTEMPT ONE'S LIFE.

Philadelphia Judge Rules That a Man Has a Right to Kill Himself If He Wishes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Feb. 14.—Herbert Wright of this city was arraigned this afternoon before Judge Arnold on the charge of taking laudanum with suicidal intent. Wright entered a plea of guilty and was discharged.

In commenting on the case Judge Arnold said he doubted if there was such an offense in this state or country as attempted suicide. The law emanated from countries where there were kings and emperors, who adopt the theory that it was wrong for a man to kill himself and thus reduce the number of the king's subjects. The judge added that a man's life belonged to himself and his Creator, and he did not know but the man had the right to kill himself if he so desired. The judge, however, told Wright that when he died he would be a long time dead and advised him not to hurry himself off.

PADEREWSKI'S BIG TRIUMPH ENJOYED BY A HAPPY WIFE

Sits in a Box and Drinks in His Success While Glasses Are Turned on Her.

SEMBRICH'S PROUD NIGHT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Metropolitan Opera house annals will have to be searched thoroughly to find among brilliant "first nights" an occasion which for sensational interest can eclipse that of tonight when Ignace Paderewski's opera "Manru" had its first performance in America.

Prepossessed to approval as the audience undoubtedly was, it required the second act to set the seal of success to the opera; but when set it was with no uncertain hand, for if curtain calls without end, bravos unlimited, flowers galore and general excitement almost hysterical constitute success, "Manru" received it.

Mme. Sembrich was "Ulana," the fair Galician maiden, and in the role she scored the very triumph which society waited for and her best friends only half expected. She was magnificent at all points, realizing a measure of tragedy, both in voice and dramatic art, which it seemed almost impossible to ask from the comedienne of the "Barber" and the "Fille Du Regiment."

Other Singers Who Scored.

Herr Von Bandrowski scored also—scored heavily. His singing of the great hammer song, in act II, insured his laurels.

A big factor in the evening was Mr. Bispham in the part of "Urok," the dwarf, a part which he invested with a quaint, uncanny sort of interest, and upon which evidences of great study were apparent.

A great ovation occurred at the end of the second act when M. Paderewski was called to the stage, and in company with the principals and Mr. Damrosch, was rapturously hailed, and a wreath went over the footlights so huge that the composer had some trouble to drag it off. Between the acts, M. Paderewski was on the stage, aiding in directing the stage settings and encouraging those who were to sing.

When he was called out before the curtain, time and time again, he glanced up at the box where his proud and happy wife sat with her hands crossed quietly, one of the few who were not applauding.

Glasses Leveled at Happy Wife.

Mme. Paderewski sat in front and bravely bore all the glasses leveled at her. Her husband sat behind her during the three acts, his eyes always on the stage, his hands sometimes unconsciously betraying his nervousness. Now and again he left for a time to go behind the scenes and say a word of appreciation and thanks to the singers.

Herr Von Bandrowski, the new tenor, shared in the triumph of the composer. When seen after the curtain had fallen he was almost overcome with the enthusiasm of the moment. "It was marvelous," he said. "Everything has gone so well tonight, when at the rehearsal everything seemed so uncertain. It is a great triumph to produce such an opera in three weeks. We took seven months in Dresden and could do no better."

The following Pittsburghers were noticed within the charmed circle of the boxes: A. R. Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Clark and Emil Winter.

KIND-HEARTED MRS. SCHWAB.

Remembers Friends of Her School Days With Generous Checks.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—A story was told here today by a visitor from Chillicothe, O., illustrating the thoughtful generosity of Mrs. Charles M. Schwab. Mrs. James Dunbar of Chillicothe knew Mrs. Schwab intimately in their girlhood days when they were schoolmates in Waverly, Pa.

Mrs. Dunbar was notified during the holidays that there was a letter deposited to her address in the postoffice of Pittsburgh, and, the stamp having fallen off, it would be forwarded upon the receipt of the proper postage. Mrs. Dunbar, thinking it probably a circular, paid little heed to the notice, but it kept recurring to her with some persistence, and at last she decided to expend the four cents necessary postage.

In return, what was her surprise to receive a pleasant little letter from Mrs. Schwab, inclosing a Christmas remembrance in the form of a check. It is believed that Mrs. Schwab had been hunting up all her old schoolmates to signify in this substantial fashion that the pleasant associations of early days were not forgotten.

15-TON BOULDER STRIKES A TRAIN KILLING SEVEN

Smashed a Caboose in Which Were Gathered Crew.

FOURTEEN OTHERS SERIOUSLY INJURED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Feb. 14.—Seven men were killed and at least 14 were seriously injured by a huge boulder, weighing 15 tons, which crashed into the caboose of a work train on the Choctaw, Oklahoma & Gulf railroad, 20 miles west of Little Rock, today.

The Dead Are:

SAMUEL SIMON, white, Booneville, Ark.
B. L. JONES, white, Booneville, Ark.
ORANGE FOSTER, colored, Little Rock.
JOHN WILLIAMS, colored, North Little Rock.
HENRY M'GEE, colored, Little Rock.
TWO UNKNOWN MEN.

The Injured Are:

BELL PENNINGER, white, foreman of the gang; leg broken and internally injured; serious.
WILLIAM LOGAN, white, Booneville; hurt internally; injuries serious.
ANDREW MUSE, colored, Little Rock; injured internally; will die.
FREEMAN DAVIS, white, Alabama; both legs broken.
JOHN CONNOR, white, Rosedale, Kan.; hurt on head.
ED M'GINNIS, foreman; badly bruised.
FRANK TOWELL, colored, Little Rock; hurt about face, hands and legs.
MOSE GARNETT, colored, Little Rock; shoulder dislocated.
EMMETT BURNETT, colored, Dumas, Ark.; arm hurt.
JOHN HOLLINS, colored, Little Rock; arm and leg hurt.
JIM CARROLL, colored, Little Rock; arm broken and head hurt.
W. H. BELLEW, white, Booneville, Ark.; injured about face and legs.
D. C. HARDIN, colored, North Little Rock; head and hand hurt.
OTTO RAYLOR, white, Missouri; badly injured about body.

Crew Saw Their Danger.

The work train was headed west, the engine pushing six cars and a caboose. As the train was passing under the high bluffs bordering the river, 20 miles west of Little Maumelle, the crew saw a heavy rock rolling down the steep declivity, which had been detached from the hill side by the rains. The train was going slowly, but was almost upon the rock when it struck the track.

Engineer Nagor reversed his engine at once, but the train struck it with almost full force. The caboose was at the head of the train and was shivered into splinters. Most of the men who were killed and injured were in the caboose.

Six Killed Outright.

There was a crew of 34 men; white and colored. Just back of the caboose were three cars of sand and many of the men were buried underneath the sand, which was thrown forward by the terrific impact.

Six men are known to have been killed outright. Three were left on the scene and three were brought to Little Rock on the train that was dispatched to the scene as soon as he news could be sent to the city. Fifteen injured were brought to Little Rock. One of the most desperately injured died on the way to the hospital from the depot.

It is believed there are others killed or buried under the sand at the scene of the wreck, as several are missing, and as yet unaccounted for. A crew of workmen is clearing the wreck and looking for the bodies. If the engineer had not stopped the train when he did, the entire train would have been buried down the embankment and all on board killed.

EMPEROR SEES A HEADACHE IN AN AMERICAN DRINK

Humorously Warns His Brother Against Decoctions of New York Bar Tenders.

JOURNEY BEGINS TODAY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

KIEL, GERMANY, Feb. 14.—Prince Henry of Prussia, clearing his books on America, jumped with children most of the day. He and the princess and their children went out coasting again. Prince Henry went down hill on his stomach, backwards and standing up. Once, while darting down the hill standing, the sled struck a hillock wildly aerated, and the prince pitched into the snow which caused his boys to scream with delight. The princess also made a decent standing. She looked quite girlish as she balanced herself gracefully on the swiftly moving sled.

Prince Henry went to the Kiel Yacht club last evening. It is a regular thing for him to spend Thursday evenings there. It is understood that the young fellows stayed away from the club that evening. About twenty of the older members were present, mostly naval officers, among them being Admirals Koester, Arnim and Fischel. Three bowls of punch were mixed and the party drank toasts to a pleasant journey for Prince Henry. The prince proposed "the United States and the toast was drank to a chorus of "Hochs."

In a bunch of newspaper clippings that came to the prince this morning from Berlin was one which described the "Hohenzollern punch," invented by a Broadway bartender. On the margin of the clippings the emperor in his own handwriting had written:

"Schrecklicher kaiserjammer am morgen" (what a headache in the morning).

Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia have seen many curious things in the American papers of which numbers were received during the last fortnight and they have had a lot of fun over them. "But, they have not seen a fine," said a member of the household, "that they know was not kindly meant."

Every preparation for the voyage to the United States is completed. Carls this evening took away the last pile of baggage from the castle yard. The prince's special train leaves here at 8 in the morning. The princess will not go to Bremerhaven, to bid the prince farewell.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Admiral von Baudissin today made a formal call upon Mayor Adolph Lanker of Hoboken. Maj. Gen. Brooke, commanding the department of the east, called on Admiral von Baudissin shortly before noon and was received with much ceremony.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.—Judgment by default for $30,000 against Prince Pulwitha, second son of the King of Korea, was entered by Chief Justice Bingham in the circuit court for the District of Columbia today. The plaintiffs are Wolf Bros. & Co. of New York city and Philadelphia, who sued on a promissory note made by the prince in hope to collect the money through the Korean legation.

The prince submitted no defense, but in an interview admitted he owed the money.

UNCLE SAM WILL BUILD HOSPITAL IN PITTSBURGH

Dalzell's Bill to Be Favorably Reported by the Committee.

PENROSE TO HELP IT THROUGH SENATE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
901 Pennsylvania Av., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.

Pittsburgh is to have a marine hospital to cost $125,000 if Representative Dalzell has his way and Senator Penrose can be as successful in the senate. As the senate is always generous to the matter of local appropriations, it would seem that if the house speedily passes the Dalzell bill, its enactment into law can be counted as good as assured.

Mr. Dalzell today appeared before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce and urged the favorable action of the committee on his bill appropriating $100,000 for a marine hospital in Pittsburgh. Pittsburgh, he said, is one of the most important shipping ports in the whole country, and is not exceeded by any other inland city. The commerce of the three rivers is extensive. Mr. Dalzell quoting from recent reports showing the enormous amount that passes through Pittsburgh. He surprised some of the members of the committee by his statements.

One for Buffalo.

With such a universal demand for a hospital in Pittsburgh, Mr. Dalzell said the committee could not well afford to refuse a favorable report, especially as it had just ordered a favorable report on a bill to give Buffalo a marine hospital of cost $125,000. One is needed in Pittsburgh as much as in Buffalo, and it would save each year more than enough to pay the interest on the money invested.

Mr. Dalzell was listened to attentively by the members of the committee, and when he had concluded he was assured that his bill would receive a favorable report. More than that he was told that the bill would be amended so as to make the appropriation $125,000, the same amount as is carried for the hospital in Buffalo.

After the bill is reported to the house, Mr. Dalzell will take the first opportunity to secure its passage. If he cannot pass it by unanimous consent, he will have it called up the first day the committee on interstate and foreign commerce is recognized to pass bills favorably reported by it.

Penrose Will Help.

Senator Penrose has promised to expedite the bill when it reaches the senate, but to save time he may introduce the bill in that body and secure its early passage. The senator and Mr. Dalzell will work in harmony in this matter.

Surgeon General Wyman of the marine hospital service is heavily in favor of the bill, and will do all he can to expedite its passage. He has noticed that Pittsburgh is one of the cities that should have a marine hospital, and if one is authorized he would send some of the best officers in the service to Pittsburgh to get the hospital in running order.

GOV. STONE WILL NOT RETURN HOME TO VOTE

He Says There Is No Contest in Allegheny This Year—Other Capitol Hill Folk Coming.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, PA., Feb. 14.—Gov. Stone will not vote next Tuesday. He is registered in Allegheny and ever since he has been governor he has gone home to vote. He said today that there is no contest this year and that he would not go home to vote. The governor, naturally, is interested in the success of the Flinn-Stone ticket in Pittsburgh. The officeholders go headed hill from Pittsburgh have gone home to help the machine.

Sixty-eighth voters are wrongly registered from the United States hotel, and 29 voters from the Lochiel hotel, according to the testimony produced today in the Dauphin county court. Proceedings to purge the registry lists in the precincts in which these hotels are located were instituted by ex-Deputy Attorney General Strauchan in behalf of the Democratic city committee. After hearing the testimony of the assessors and the managers of the hotels, Judge Simonton directed the assessors to strike off the names of those electors.

Mr. Strauchan said there was no intention to claim fraud, but the assessors made a mistake in accepting the lists furnished by the hotel people without making a personal investigation as to the qualifications of the men whose names appeared on these lists to vote in the precincts. Many of these voters whose names appeared on the list are not even residents of Harrisburg.

Bonus for Titusville Workmen.

TITUSVILLE, PA., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—The 900 or more employes of the Titusville Iron Company were this evening requested to call at the general office on their way out of the shop. The workmen filed by the cashier's window, where each man was given an envelope containing a check for an amount equivalent to 5 per cent of his last year's earnings. The remainder of the workmen oil well supplies, boilers and engines.

ROOSEVELT'S RUNNING MATE

Boom Already Launched for David M. Parry of Indiana By United States Senator Beveridge.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Feb. 14.—Roosevelt and Parry will head the national Republican ticket in 1904, if the desire of a large number of the Indiana man's personal friends and many leading politicians and the suggestion of President Roosevelt himself are carried into effect.

The nomination of David M. Parry, who is president of the Parry Manufacturing Company of this city, and vice president of the National Manufacturing association, is being urged for the vice presidential nomination by United States Senator Beveridge, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the nomination. Senator Beveridge will not permit his name to be sprung at the national convention in 1904 as a candidate, and he has backed his statement by launching a boom for Mr. Parry.

Mr. Parry confirms the report that he discussed the subject with President Roosevelt and Senator Beveridge while he was at Washington two weeks ago, but tonight he declined to be interviewed, saying that he was not yet prepared to make a statement.

It is believed by his friends that he will consent to be a candidate.

TWENTY-SECOND WARD WILL GO FOR CITIZENS

The Voters Are Thoroughly Aroused and Victory Seems Certain.

HOT FIGHTS IN WEST END

Contests in Thirty-Fifth and Thirty-Sixth Wards Close, Machine Likely to Be Defeated in One, but Councilmen Doubtful in Other.

A canvass of the political situation in the Twenty-second ward made it evident yesterday that the Citizens' ticket will have a majority over the machine ticket and its auxiliary, the Democratic ticket. From the interest shown in the campaign and the enthusiastic sentiment for John H. Larkin for controller and the Citizens' councilmanic nominees, the Citizens' party should win with ease. The desperation of the opposition was shown yesterday by the distribution of circulars attacking J. S. Wightman, the Citizens' candidate for select council, and W. S. Woods, candidate for the common branch. The sentiment for Wightman and Woods is evident everywhere in the ward; it is not confined to the houses of the wealthy or of those in more moderate circumstances, nor to the business or the workingman. Men of all vocations seem to have decided that the machine has had a long enough lease of life, and that it is now time to end its rule.

Sentiment for Citizens.

From Neville street to the city line the sentiment is for the Citizens' candidates. On Wilkins, Forbes, Braddock, Homewood and Shady avenues and other streets nearly every house has one or more supporters of Wightman and Woods, and in North Homestead, where so many workingmen live, the feeling for the same men is exceedingly strong. In this district many men own their own little properties, and these men are especially averse to continuing in power the machine that has kept up the high taxation without giving corresponding benefits. North Homestead is practically without improvements.

The Citizens' party's candidates are making capital out of Senator William Flinn's refusal to sign a petition for running a street alongside his property in the Twenty-third ward. Mr. Flinn's land is on a steep hillside.

The citizens of the ward wanted a decent street to give them egress from and ingress to their homes and a petition to city councils was circulated. At a meeting in the Twenty-second ward about two weeks ago a man got up holding the petition in his hand. It had been presented, he said, to Senator Flinn for his signature, but the senator had declined to sign it. As the senator owns a good many hundred feet of frontage along the proposed improved street, the improvement would cost him several thousand dollars.

Despite the inclement weather of the last two weeks the meetings of the Citizens' party have been attended by enthusiastic crowds. It is predicted that a larger vote will be polled than ever before, not only because the ward's population has increased, but because the interest is so intense that men who have not voted for some elections past will turn out on that race for the Citizens' ticket.

Charges Are Denied.

The Citizens' headquarters at Selwyn and Elysian streets are crowded every night and the interest is intense. J. J. Ricketts, president, and J. C. Forse, secretary, of an organization calling itself the Democratic committee of the Twenty-second ward, issued a circular yesterday, in which it was alleged that Wightman and Woods were not the Democratic nominees, and both were bitterly attacked personally.

Wightman and Woods have easily cleared themselves of the charges mentioned in the Forse circular.

James F. Keenan, who is running for select council on an independent ticket, claiming a Democratic indorsement, W. T. Edwards, running on the same ticket for common council, seems to be hopeful over his prospects. He fully believes that he and Mr. Edwards will win.

"I think the election of Mr. Edwards and myself is certain," said Mr. Keenan. "We have a thorough organization in every district in the ward, under the head of a general organization. We have made a complete canvass of the situation and the reports from our various committees are favorable, very favorable. We have the support of the best citizens in the ward of every avocation. The ring ticket is making an effort to defeat me by spreading the allegation that I am connected with the warehouse syndicate. I have nothing to do with the warehouse scheme. The men who are back of it wanted the ground on which our warehouse stands. We had a 25-year lease on the property and we sold them our lease. That's all I have to do with the warehouse project."

Duquesne Heights and the West End—that is those sections lying in the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth wards—are seething with a fierce political fight. The controllership is not receiving much attention, but the fight for places in councils is hotly waged. Both sides are claiming victory, but all admit that the fight in both wards will be closer than it has been for years.

Party lines are not being as closely drawn as in most wards. The personal standing and popularity of the candidates are important factors and will probably end in seating one or two of the candidates who otherwise would be defeated. With all the fierceness of the contests there has been absolutely no mud slinging and the campaign is remarkable for its cleanness.

Hard Fight in Thirty-fifth.

The Thirty-fifth ward is probably seeing the hardest fight, as both select and common councilmen are to be elected. John Pedder, who has been select councilman from the ward for a long time, has retired this year in favor of his son, Charles J. Pedder, who secured the Republican nomination. George S. Ewing is Mr. Pedder's running-mate on the ticket. John Costello for select council and William C. Reitz for common council have the Citizens and Democratic indorsement.

Nearly every voter in the ward is taking a great interest in the fight. Mr. Pedder is a hard worker and a popular man. Mr. Ewing is neither so aggressive nor so popular. John Costello, a former president of the United Mine Workers, is making a strong fight against Mr. Pedder, and there is a strong sentiment in his favor. He is a bluff, hearty man, with many friends. Mr. Reitz, the Citizens candidate for common council, is really the only place conceded.

Reitz Is Popular.

Every person who knows anything of politics in the Thirty-fifth ward admits that Mr. Reitz is one of the best men in the ward and probably the most popular. He has been elected school director for term after term without making any effort to secure the place, and his election to council will come in much the same way.

Every man in the ward seems to be his friend, and while he has done very little work to secure his election there seems to be no doubt that he will win on Tuesday by a big majority. Many people who will vote for Joseph E. Lewis for controller and for Charles J. Pedder for select council will cast a ballot for Mr. Reitz simply because of his sterling qualities and popularity.

The fight between Costello and Pedder is very hot. Costello is as confident as can be, and is willing to wager considerable money that he will be chosen to represent the ward in select council.

Depends on Councilmen.

If Pedder manages to get into select council it is practically sure that Lewis will carry the ward; but if Costello and Reitz are elected as Citizens candidates there is a chance that Larkin will get away with a majority vote.

The ordinary vote of the Thirty-fifth ward is about 800. Of this number the Republican majority is commonly from 250 to 300. Supporters of the Republican ticket admit this time that even if they carry the ward for their candidates the majority will not be more than 50 or 100. This is a big cut, and Citizens party supporters regard the admission as a confession of weakness and lack of confidence in the outcome.

Policemen and firemen have been working hard in the ward for the organization candidates. The policemen were given orders to hustle for Pedder and Ewing. One officer, a friend of Costello's, when given his orders to electioneer for Pedder and Ewing, refused, and then resigned his place as patrolman.

Hot Finish to Campaign.

The Citizens and Democrats will close the campaign with three meetings, one in each of the three precincts of the ward. Last night a meeting was held on Duquesne Heights. This evening another meeting will be held in Mannerchor hall, and on Monday evening the final gathering of the campaign will be held in the ward schoolhouse. Mr. Costello and his friends are hopeful that the enthusiasm manifest at these meetings will win over the last few wavering voters.

In the Thirty-sixth ward there is also a lively contest. Charles Cavett, present common councilman, desires to be reelected. When the nominations were held he was tendered a place on the Citizens' ticket, and at the same time offered the Republican nomination. Mr. Cavett has served two years in common council as a Republican, and did not feel that he could go back on the people who elected him in the first place.

Cavett Declined Nomination.

After Mr. Cavett declined the Citizens' party nomination, Thomas P. Hershberger, Sr., was chosen to make the fight. Mr. Hershberger is an undertaker and liveryman, and for 18 years past Mr. Cavett had been his bookkeeper and right-hand man. Four years ago Mr. Hershberger was elected to common council after a hard fight, and after one term retired, leaving the nomination to his employe.

Mr. Cavett is one of the most popular young men in the ward. When he stood for election two years ago he had almost no opposition, and won without any fight. This year Mr. Hershberger is opposing him. Mr. Hersnberger has been a Prohibitionist all his life, but this time has the indorsement of the Citizens and Democrats.

The fight is also decidedly a family affair. Thomas P. Hershberger, Jr., a son of the candidate, married a sister of Mr. Cavett. Mr. Cavett and a prominent young Democrat of the ward, William E. Walna, married sisters. The intermarriage has extended further even than that, and is adding almost a humorous side to the contest.

Hershberger Seems Confident.

Mr. Hershberger seems to be confident of winning, but his opponents say that Cavett will have a fair majority, probably between 100 and 200. The ward polls from 800 to 1,100 voters, but for four years there has not been fight enough to determine just how closely party lines are drawn.

Cavett has acquired quite a following owing to his independence. He has not taken orders from the organization during the past two years, and his friends think he will continue to do as he thinks best. He secured some needed street improvements in the ward which his predecessor had failed to attend to and this has helped him.

Cavett was a supporter of E. M. Bigelow during his fights with the organization. Organization leaders realize that Mr. Cavett may not be easy to lead in common council, but they are making the best of a bad bargain.

However, Cavett is getting only moral support from the machine. There is no mustering of policemen or firemen to his assistance upon orders from the machine leaders.

Larkin's chances are considered good for carrying the Thirty-sixth ward. While in one or two precincts the fact that he is a Roman Catholic is acting against him, it is believed that he will be strong enough to poll a good majority. A number of young Democrats who will vote for Cavett, because they believe him the best man, will vote for Larkin for the same reason, so that it is probable Lewis will run considerably behind his ticket.

Vote for the Citizens ticket and get water at a fair price for yourself and South Side consumers.

MANY MEETINGS HELD LAST NIGHT

CITIZENS PARTY SPEAKERS WERE ENTHUSIASTICALLY RECEIVED.

Voters of Fifteenth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Twenty-first and Thirty-seventh Wards Heard Ring Denounced—Machine Orators Talked.

The voters of the Fifteenth ward, the home of select Councilman John Upperman, a Flinn lieutenant, paid an enthusiastic tribute to the Citizens party and candidates at a largely attended meeting last night in the Lawrence schoolhouse, Thirty-seventh and Charlotte streets. John B. Larkin, the anti-machine candidate for city controller, was one of the speakers, and replied to some of the statements on city finances made by Recorder J. O. Brown in his address to the Republican city committee last Saturday.

Mr. Larkin reasserted that the city could be safely governed on a 12-mill tax levy at the present time, and within a year or two that the levy could be reduced to 10 mills if the municipal affairs were economically and honestly administered. Mr. Larkin predicted the success of the Citizens ticket and declared that repeaters had been brought into the city by the machine to attempt to carry the election by fraud.

McCaffrey's Hot Speech.

Mr. Larkin was followed by Stephen Boyle, who spoke to the workingmen, and by Thomas McCaffrey. Mr. McCaffrey said that Lawrenceville property was assessed at one-third more than it would bring in the market.

"It is high time," said the speaker, "to make a change by electing men to councils who are free men—men who are not owned by a boss, such as the present select councilman, who misrepresents the citizens of this ward. Whoever heard of him consulting the citizens that elected him? When any important measure concerning his ward was up the only man he ever consulted was Boss Flinn, and he never failed to do what he was told.

"This man Upperman is not a proper, fit or fair man for the citizens to have in council; he never was sincere and honest and truthful to the people that elected him to the state senate and city councils."

The union meeting of the Citizens party of the Seventh and Eighth wards last night was a rousing one. Franklin school was crowded to the walls, and scores were unable to gain admittance. Alderman John Cahill called the meeting to order, and Andrew Curtin was made permanent chairman. Attorney L. S. Levin attacked the police department in his address, which was the first on the program. He was followed by Jere Doherty, Attorney Ralph Strawbridge, John A. Downey, James M. Dunn, James Grose, Ruben Miller, William McKelvey and Samuel Shenkan.

The Citizens' party of the Ninth and Tenth wards had a big parade last night, followed by a meeting in the Ralston school. The room was packed and standing room could not be had when the meeting began. T. M. Brophy acted as chairman and addresses were made by Attorney Ralph Strawbridge, Thomas B. Brown and Charles O'Brien. Resolutions denouncing the work of the "ring" in Pittsburgh and indorsing the candidacy of John B. Larkin and the Citizens tickets for council were adopted with great enthusiasm.

Good Crowds in Brushton.

Fully 800 voters were in attendance at the Citizens meeting of the Thirty-seventh ward at the Brushton school last night. Dr. F. M. Cain presided over the gathering, which was addressed by R. A. Hill, P. J. Wyke, H. B. Todd, C. M. Ege, William Hodgkinson and W. J. Stony. John B. Larkin was also present and said in an address that the ward paid $15,000 more than its fair share of the taxes. A resolution was passed denouncing Flinn rule in the city.

An enthusiastic Citizens meeting was held in the Homewood school, in the Twenty-first ward. Addresses were made by R. H. Douglas and Dr. George W. McNeil, the councilmanic candidates, and by R. W. Guthrie, R. G. Mattern, Joseph Vichestain, and Mr. Millar of the Bricklayers' union.

The Republicans of the Thirty-seventh ward met in the ward headquarters on Brushton avenue. District Attorney Haymaker, Capt. John Reid and A. C. Stein made addresses.

Nineteenth ward Republicans held a meeting last night in the Garfield school, which was addressed by ex-Mayor William J. Diehl, who presided, Walter Billows, D. L. Gillespie and Samuel D. Warmcastle.

About 100 colored voters of the Nineteenth ward met in the other side of the Garfield school at the same time and indorsed the nominees of the Citizens party. Grant Singleton presided and the voters, who were very enthusiastic, were addressed by J. D. Bole, candidate for council; J. F. Freeman, Martin McKain, John A. Mason, J. H. Martin and Daniel Hawes.

Machine Men Gathered.

The Republicans of the Sixteenth ward held a well attended meeting last night in the Woolslayer school. William P. Allen presided and addresses were made by District Attorney John C. Haymaker, W. C. Kennedy and W. L. Billows.

The Republican meeting in the Thirty-first ward was held in Allentown Turner hall and had a good attendance. Dr. A. J. Barchfeld, George M. Hosack and Arch Mackrell were the speakers.

The Republicans of the Twenty-third ward met last night in Moore's hall on Elwood avenue. State Senator W. A. Magee, Jr., presided and made an address. He was followed by Assistant District Attorney W. D. Grimes, W. W. McElhaney, William M. Benham and A. W. Hunter.

The Republican meeting in the Thirty-second ward was held in Mannerchor hall, and was attended by about 500 voters. Jacob Minsinger was chairman and address were made by A. J. Niles, William A. Blakely and Dr. A. J. Barchfeld. Controller Lewis was present, but did not speak.

SNOW OR SLEET.

Nasty Weather Is Predicted for Pittsburgh Today.

Stationary temperature and partly cloudy weather, accompanied by snow or sleet, are the weather indications for Pittsburgh today. At 8 o'clock last night the thermometer registered 16 degrees aboze zero. Since February 1 the mercury has been 1.75 degrees below normal and since January 7, it has been 1.81 below. With this low temperature the snowfall has been 1.03 inches below normal, since February 1, and 2.69 inches below normal since January 1.

It was snowing in Kentucky and Tennessee last night and the storm appears to be hailing to the northwest. In the northwest the thermometer has risen slightly.

GREATEST FIRE CHIEF IN THE WORLD.

Benefit He Received from Paine's Celery Compound.

With Perfect Nerves and Good Blood He Has Won the Highest Position in His Calling.

On December 14, last, the proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound found the following letter among their mail:

They had no correspondence on the subject; they did not know Mr. Musham, except by reputation. Like every testimonial of this great medicine that was ever printed, it came to them unsolicited and unsought. The proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound have never found it necessary to manufacture or edit any testimonial. They have never found it necessary by any trick of advertising to promote mythical men in far off places to positions in legislatures or offices that never heard of them. It is the one of all remedies the popularity of which has increased on account of what it does, instead of what it says.

It appears that Fire Chief Musham, the head of the Chicago Fire Department, which is the model of the world, has been for forty years in the service; as brave as a lion, industrious, cool-headed, with a record for fighting fires, and quite as distinguished for nerve and generalship as other heroes upon whom nations have bestowed public honors for service in no less hazardous undertakings. Chief Musham, in the spring of 1901, obtained the highest recognition that it is possible for a man in his business to have—promotion for merit to the head of the finest fire-fighting brigade on earth.

He began at the bottom.

Read what he says of the medicine that has also enabled thousands of other men and women to achieve what by intelligence and ambition they were cut out to do.

And bear in mind that what Paine's Celery Compound has done in the case of Marshal Musham, and for thousands of others who have voluntarily expressed their gratitude in similar words, it will do with unvarying certainty in the case of every person whose nervous system, from whatever cause, begins to show the effects of disease, and whose symptoms manifest themselves in the various distressing ways that are so familiar to every reader.

"Gentlemen:—

Your remedy, Paine's Celery Compound, is all that you claim for it, and is certainly a boon to humanity. I have tried it, and have secured great benefits from it when suffering from indigestion or its companion, nervousness. I am told that many of the boys in the department are using Paine's Celery Compound with very satisfactory results. I can heartily recommend Paine's Celery Compound for those who suffer from lack of energy, nervousness, indigestion and similar ailments. Yours truly,

"W. H. MUSHAM,
"Fire Marshal."

Killed in Railroad Wreck---Murdered His Housekeeper

THREE TRAINMEN MET DEATH AT POST OF DUTY

EIGHT OTHERS INJURED

Icy Rails on Pennsylvania Tracks Near Altoona Sends Freight to Destruction.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALTOONA, PA., Feb. 14.—The crew of an extra east-bound freight, from the Cambria and Clearfield division, this morning discovered in the Gallitzen tunnel that the train was slipping on the rails. Brakes were applied, but the wheels continued to slip. At a frightful speed the train shot from the mouth of the tunnel and began its mad race down the mountain and around the horseshoe curve.

The crew realized the danger, but not a man flinched and trial after trial to work the brakes was vainly made. Conductor Grove was seen running from car to car of the swaying train and shortly before the crash came he was gripping a brake wheel. He died at his post and later when the wrecking crew found him his hands, cold in death, clasped the wheel.

As the train, running at the speed of a cannon ball, approached Allegrippus tower, and east-bound freight hooked up on the same track, 1181 ahead. A few seconds later the runaway crashed into the rear of the east-bound train, piling the caboose and 12 cars into a shapeless mass and sending the first engine toppling over the embankment and down its side to the bottom, 150 feet below. A west-bound freight running up the mountain was abreast of the runaway as the crash came. Two free tracks intervened, but in the telescoping of the rear cars of the east-bound train one car was hurled broadside into the west-bound freight. Four cars were wrecked in the second smashup, and all the tracks blocked to passenger and freight traffic for hours.

The killed are:

CONDUCTOR T. W. COONEY, single, of Hastings.

BRAKEMAN W. B. WESTNER, single, of St. Augustine.

CONDUCTOR SAMUEL GROVE of Altoona.

The injured were:

D. M. KINKEAD, engineer, married, Altoona; both wrists fractured and face cut.

THOMAS M. STEWART, brakeman, single; concussion of left side.

SIMON FREDERICK, brakeman, married, Altoona; fracture of clavicle and humerus.

WILLIAM W. HARTMAN, fireman, married, Altoona; lacerations of head and face.

J. S. FLUKE, engineer, Altoona; slightly hurt by jumping.

A. B. NOMAN, fireman, Altoona; sustained slight injuries by jumping.

E. F. LAWSON, fireman, Altoona; jumped, but not badly hurt.

GEORGE CROST, fireman, Wall, Pa.; sustained a few bruises.

Conductor Samuel Grove was married, a native of York county, and had been a railroader many years. He intended leaving the service to enter business for himself next month in Cambria county.

Conductor T. W. Cooney was unmarried and worth $20,000, invested in Cambria county coal lands. His home was at Hastings. Brakeman W. B. Westner, single, resided at St. Augustine, Cambria county.

Engineer Fatally Injured.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—A freight wreck on the Baltimore & Ohio occurred at Weverton Junction today, probably fatally injuring Engineer John Kearns of this city and slightly injuring his fireman. A number of cars were ditched, due to a derailing switch.

EXPLOSION CAUSED PANIC IN FACTORY

Bursting of Steam Radiator at Paradise Injured Many Women.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LANCASTER, PA., Feb. 14.—The explosion of a steam radiator created a panic among 25 women employes at Hershey's shirt factory at Paradise today.

The women, who were in one room, were blinded and burned by the escaping steam, but fought their way to the stairs. A number flung themselves to the bottom and several were caught while attempting to jump from a window.

A second explosion wrecked the radiator, the pieces being hurled through the room. A number of women were badly hurt.

Two Fell from a Bridge Near Cumberland and Broke a Main Girder in Their Descent.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—Two loaded mine cars jumped the track today at noon on the suspension bridge across the Potomac at Bloomington and were precipitated into the river.

In going down the cars struck and broke one of the main girders of the bridge, rendering the structure unsafe and necessitating the suspension of the output at Buxton and Franklin mines, throwing 300 miners out of work.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

MOUNDSVILLE, W. VA.—The board of pardons sent an unwelcome valentine yesterday to George Carter, a colored man in the penitentiary here sentenced to be executed March 21. The board advised the governor not to extend executive clemency to the condemned man. Carter was convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of Virgil Whistler at Charleston, December 12, 1900.

GREENSBURG, PA.—Antonio Vanco, an Italian miner at Crabtree, tried to thaw out some dynamite in a stove at his home early yesterday morning, and, as a result, he and his child are now in a serious condition. There was a terrific explosion, the woman and child were lifted through the side of the house and dropped in a snowdrift and Vanco was literally driven through the side of the building. The house is a total wreck.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.—Two of the four prisoners who escaped from the jail at Marietta Thursday morning, William Skinner and James Clemminger, have been caught at Eureka, W. Va. Officers are now in pursuit of the other two men, who have promised to make a desperate resistance.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—The officials of the Erie railroad have investigated the wreck of the Erie flyer and have decided that it was caused by a broken rail. All blame has been removed from employes. The injured are rapidly recovering, but three having been sent to their homes.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Vice President G. Watson French of the Republic Iron and Steel Company said yesterday that the fires that have taken place in all parts of the country recently will cause an unprecedented demand for structural steel and that the present year will be the greatest in the history of the steel industry.

DRUNKEN MAN KILLS HIS HOUSEKEEPER AT CHESTER

THE CITY IS EXCITED

A Reserve Force Called Out to Guard the Prisoner from Angry Crowd.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHESTER, PA., Feb. 14.—Robert Kilpatrick, a widower aged 54 years, shot and killed Miss Eliza Baymore, his housekeeper, today at No. 217 Central avenue. Kilpatrick, who is an insurance agent, lives in the northern section of the city and yesterday he came home intoxicated, whereupon Mrs. Baymore left the house and went to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Matthew Craft, in Central avenue. Later in the day Kilpatrick sent a carriage for her and she returned, but finding him still under the influence of liquor she went back again to the daughter's house.

This morning Kilpatrick entered the house with the announcement: "I'm here for business."

He was led out by a son of the housekeeper. In a few hours Kilpatrick came back and immediately opened fire upon Mrs. Craft, shooting at her three times. All of the shots went wild of the mark. Then he fired at Mrs. Baymore, the bullet entering her heart and killing her instantly.

Kilpatrick fled, but about an hour later was arrested on the street. Kilpatrick said he killed the woman because she refused to marry him after having promised to do so. An immense crowd gathered about the city hall station house and a special reserve force was placed on duty to prevent any attack on the prisoner.

The family were asleep when the fire broke out and were awakened by the roof falling in. Mrs. Newell, who is an aged woman and rather feeble, barely escaped with her life.

TRYING TO MAKE THORN'S ACTION THING OF PAST

Postmaster Holliday Refuses to Talk on Lining Up Postal Employes.

DEMOCRATS CAUTIONED

Letter Carriers of That Political Persuasion Were Told Not to Take Too Active a Part in Campaign. Warning of Coming of Repeaters.

Postmaster George L. Holliday would like to treat the attempt of Thomas H. Thorn, cashier of the Pittsburgh postoffice, to line up the postal employes for the machine ticket as a closed incident.

It is getting around toward the time when Mr. Holliday comes up for reappointment. He knows that President Roosevelt is very particular about federal employes mixing in politics. The postmaster is a little of a mixer himself, being a member of the machine city committee and a rather regular frequenter of Flinn's throne room.

While Mr. Holliday was endeavoring to close the Thorn incident, he admitted that he had advised Democratic carriers not to be so active for their ticket. A moment later he corrected this to the extent that he had also conveyed the same information to other carriers.

The postmaster says that he has not received any official notice from Washington that the department was interested in Thorn's breach of the regulation and defiance of the president's orders.

Notice Said to Have Been Sent.

This will come along later, for the department is said to have been fully advised, and some rough riding is anticipated.

"Did you talk to Thorn about his attempt to influence the postal employes to vote the machine ticket?" was asked Mr. Holliday.

"I talked with Tom."

"Did Thorn admit that he had been working among the employes?"

"I do not care to talk about it."

"Did you tell Thorn not to do it any more?"

"I do not want to be interviewed on the subject. I prefer not to discuss this matter so late in the campaign."

Mr. Holliday then said that he had received complaints about carriers being too active in politics. He said he warned them to be careful.

"Were they Democrats?" was asked.

"Yes."

Then the postmaster realized what he had said and attempted to qualify by saying that he had warned all the carriers.

Accusing Citizens Party.

Machine men are now attempting to show that if there are any repeaters in town they were brought here to work for the Citizens party.

That there are some repeaters in town cannot be denied. They are all seasoned workers in the profession of illegal voting and some of them have performed like service in this city and in Allegheny in days gone by.

The following letter will show that arrangements for repeaters were made some time ago:

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 30, 1902.

My Dear Sir—I learned some days ago that certain emissaries of the Flinn organization in Pittsburgh have made visits to this city with the view of securing through the purchase of a notorious leader a large gang of repeaters, who are to go to Pittsburgh with a number of different parties just before the election and work in the several wards of your city.

Through friends who are well acquainted with men in this city who do this kind of work I have learned today that the friends of these emissaries have been successful, and all plans are perfected for the work. The gang of repeaters will consist of not less than 200 men, many of whom are, I am informed, members of the —— club of this city.

Colored Men Included.

A considerable number of colored men will accompany them from Wilmington and New Castle, Del. One of the parties says that the whole gang is to have its expenses paid, to receive a stipulated sum of money, and so much extra for every vote each man casts, and the organizer of the gang is to receive a very considerable sum of money besides.

As the sources of my information are in my opinion entirely trustworthy, I have believed that you would consider the matter of sufficient importance to warrant a thorough investigation. If so, I would suggest that you send one or four trusted lieutenants here, and I will immediately put him in touch with the sources of my information. Should you decide upon this latter course, I request that you wire me at once stating the name of the man who will call on me and just when he will call.

Hoping you will receive this letter in the spirit in which it is written and that it may mean the defeat of the dastardly scheme to thwart the people's will, and with very best regards, I am, etc.

The name of the writer and that of the club are withheld for the present.

Trouble in Fourth Ward.

There is trouble in the machine Democratic camp in the Fourth ward. Representative John J. Sweeney is scared. He is trying to elect his cousin, Charles Sweeney, common councilman. The Citizens are making such a strong fight that John Sweeney is charged with trying to trade off Conlon, the machine candidate for select councilman, for voters for Charles Sweedey. This has angered the Anderson faction, the backers of Conlon. Placards announcing Sweeney's candidacy have been torn down by the Anderson workers. Donahoo and Martin, the Citizen candidates, are looked upon as sure winners and the ward is given to Larkin by a good majority.

In the Eighth ward Thursday night the machine forces had a parade in order to attract a crowd to the ring meeting held at the school house. Those who met were paid $1 a head to participate in the parade. Among the number was the messenger at Stalwart headquarters. A $2 bill was thrust into his hand.

Wouldn't Give It Back.

He refused to get into line or give the money back and was threatened with arrest.

Judge Elliott Rodgers yesterday held a hearing in the matter of the petition of W. L. Reifer to have 50 names stricken from the registry list of the First district of the Second ward. It was agreed that 26 names should be stricken from the list and that other corrections of the list be made as agreed to.

The last big rally of the Citizen party will be held in Old City hall tonight. Addresses will be made by W. B. Rodgers and George W. Guthrie.

You can get even with ring bulldozers when you go into the voting booth. The ballot is secret now.

SIXTH AVENUE MEN WERE AFRAID TO BET

Larkin Backers Sought in Vain for Takers for Their Money at Machine Headquarters.

W. E. Howley and John Ennis sought in vain for Lewis backers at Sixth avenue headquarters yesterday. The building was full of Flinn men but the Larkins money went begging. Finally County Detective Robert G. Robinson said that later on they would be willing to cover all money offered. That was the best Howley and Ennis could get.

Later Howley made a bet of $1,000 even with Max G. Leslie, president of common council and candidate for reelection as councilman from the Seventeenth ward.

Leslie left $250 of the money at Newell's. He told the stakeholders that he would see how "things looked Saturday" and if all right the balance would be posted by 6 this evening. If he fails to make good the $250 posted will go to Howley.

Jesse Pavey, betting for some of the machine leaders, has posted about $1,000 that Lewis will be re-elected. John Staley has the Larkin end of the wager.

A bet of $500 to $250 that P. J. Berry would defeat John Hamilton for select council in the Fifth ward, was made at Newell's last night. One bet of $1,000, even, on Larkin has been made at the Hotel Victoria. The Larkin man has made another bet of $500 on the Lewis candidate and wants to put up more money if he can find takers.

Some machine men, close to the bosses, yesterday gathered up $2,000 that they thought they would wager on Lewis. The money was not posted after they had gotten some of the ring's inside figures. The estimate showed that the best possible majority Lewis could receive on the South Side was 250. In the First, Eighteenth and Twenty-third wards, the machine placed the majority of Lewis at 1,200. The Thirty-seventh ward was considered a stand-off, but the stumbling block was the Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first and Twenty-second wards. They are all Larkin strongholds.

The 1,450 that the machine had figured outside of this territory was entirely wiped out by these four wards, and a handsome majority left for Larkin.

A cross mark in the Citizens circle is a blow at the ring.

MISS ALICE ROOSEVELT GOES TO GROTON

Breaks Social Engagements to Assist Her Mother at Her Brother's Sick Bed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—Miss Alice Roosevelt left Washington this afternoon at 4:50 o'clock for Groton. She will remain there with her mother until her brother is convalescent, when Mrs. Roosevelt will return to the White House, bringing the interesting young invalid with her.

Miss Roosevelt, in leaving the capital just now, has to cancel many social engagements, some of the functions being given especially for her. The Swiss minister, M. Pioda, has invitations out for a dinner tomorrow night for Miss Roosevelt, but by that time she will be at the bedside of her sick brother.

BOSTON, MASS., Feb. 14.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., has improved very rapidly today and for the first time since his illness he partook of solid food, meat included. Dr. Shattuck of Boston has discontinued his visits, leaving Dr. Warren of Groton in charge.

The boy's lungs are rapidly clearing, with the possibility of restoration being completed in a very few days.

Preparing for Meeting.

At a meeting of the local Princeton alumni in the University club last night reports were read from the committees on the coming meeting of the Western Association of Princeton clubs. The Hon. Nathaniel Ewing of Uniontown was elected president, Warren J. Seymour secretary, and Charles L. Hamilton, treasurer for the ensuing year. The latter are Pittsburghers. It is expected that 120 members from the Western Association of Princeton clubs will be present at the annual gathering, to be held in Pittsburgh March 7 and 8.

HALF OUR ILLS ARE CATARRH

Proof From All Sections That Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Congressman Smith of Illinois.

Hon. Geo. W. Smith, Member of Congress, in a recent letter from Murphysboro, Ill., to The Peruna Medicine Co., says the following in regard to Peruna for catarrh:

The Peruna Medicine Co.:

Gentlemen—I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of Peruna. I have taken one bottle for my catarrh and I feel very much benefited. To those who are afflicted with catarrh and in need of a good tonic I take pleasure in recommending Peruna."—Geo. W. Smith.

Major Longstreet.

Major Robert L. Longstreet, who served on the staff of General Lee, General Francis V. Greene, General Arnold, of the Regulars; and General Willison, in the late war with Spain, is the son of the great ex-Confederate General. Major Longstreet was mustered out in June, and he is now in Washington trying to get rid of the pernicious malarial fever which he contracted in Cuba. He found Peruna of benefit on his return to the United States and says the following in regard to the great catarrh cure and tonic:

"I have taken Peruna as a tonic on my return from the Cuban climate and find it excellent."

Miss Jeanie Johnson.

Miss Jeanie Johnson, Vice President Chicago Teachers' Federation, 3115 Lake Park avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Among the different remedies I have tried when in need of a tonic none have helped me more than Peruna. I find it especially helpful in cases of catarrh of the stomach; it restores the functions of nature, induces sleep and builds up the entire system."

Catarrh of the pelvic organs is the bane of womankind.

Most cases of backache are caused by catarrh of the kidneys. Peruna is just the medicine for catarrh of the kidneys. It stimulates the kidneys to excrete from the blood the accumulating poison. It gives vigor to the heart's action and digestive system. Peruna should be used in all cases of catarrh of the kidneys.

PERUNA NOT A CURE-ALL.

Peruna is not a "cure-all," it cures just one disease—catarrh. But since catarrh is able to fasten itself within the different organs of the body, so it is that Peruna cures affections of these organs. But we insist that Peruna cures one disease only. We claim that Peruna is the only internal, scientific remedy for catarrh yet devised. We claim that catarrh is a systemic disease; that is to say, it invades the whole system. We claim that Peruna is a systemic remedy; that is to say, it eradicates catarrh from the system. Catarrh is not a local disease; Peruna is not a local remedy. Since catarrh invades the system, only a systemic remedy can reach it. This is, in brief, our claim in addressing to the disease—catarrh—our remedy, Peruna.

Men of prominence all over the United States are recommending Peruna. Over forty members of Congress have written their endorsement of it. Scores of other government officials speak in high praise of it.

There is no medicine that can take its place. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O., for free catarrh book.

Hon. Wm. A. Deane of San Francisco.

Hon. Wm. A. Deane, Clerk of the city and county of San Francisco, in a letter written from San Francisco, says:

"I would not be without Peruna, as I have found it to be the best remedy for catarrhal complaints that I have ever used. I have tried most all of the so-called catarrh remedies advertised, and can conscientiously say that of all the remedies for catarrhal complaints recommended to me none have been so beneficial as Peruna."—Wm. A. Deane.

Everybody is subject to catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh, acute or chronic, wherever located.

Hon. Thomas Gahan.

Hon. Thomas Gahan of Chicago, member of the National Committee of the Democratic party, writes as follows:

I was afflicted with catarrh for fourteen years and though I tried many remedies and spoiled to several doctors I was not able to find a cure. Finally I learned of Peruna, by Peruna, through a friend who had used it. I took Peruna for twenty-two weeks and am now entirely cured. I have every reason to think no cure as complete as it was has been a year since then. I can heartily recommend Peruna as a catarrh remedy. It will cure when all other remedies fail."—Thomas Gahan.

Mrs. Brackett.

Mrs. F. E. Brackett, 8 Belle street, Medford, Mass., says: "I have been treating myself for catarrh for about twenty-four years. During that time I have used many different kinds of medicines, but found nothing your medicines I tried them for superior in every respect. The toxic effect of Peruna on the body is entirely removed. My wife does and recommends Peruna."—F. E. Brackett.

"Few stop to realize in how many ways catarrh can affect the body. Every organ, every tissue, every nerve, every function of the human body is liable to catarrh. Peruna is an internal, systematic catarrh remedy and acts beneficially upon every part of the human economy of the human body. Consequently it is equally effective to cure catarrh in any organ.

Lord Rosebery Says That the Irish Have Lost Their Chance Forever.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 14.—Lord Rosebery received a tremendous ovation at the great Liberal demonstration here this evening.

During his remarks Lord Rosebery said that the Irish party had now indignantly repudiated any connection with the Liberal party and he believed they had acted wisely. It was both to their interests and to those of the Liberal party. The Irish leaders had played their full hand. They had demanded an independent parliament in Dublin and thereupon he had cried "halt." This remark was greeted with applause. Continuing, Lord Rosebery said:

I am not prepared at any time or under any circumstances to grant them an independent parliament. No sane person would ever consent to handing over the destinies of Ireland, situated in the very heart of the empire, to a parliament controlled by those who have expressed the earnest wish that we might be overthrown in battle. The Irish question is too large for any one party. It will need the energy and the patriotism of both great parties to deal therewith. These are my personal sentiments, but I wish to make them perfectly clear on returning to public life.

Regarding the war, Lord Rosebery said he had been ignominiously ridiculed for the suggestion of "casual peace negotiations in some wayside inn," but that he thought the recent mission of Dr. Kuyper, the Dutch premier, bore a fairly close analogy to such a course. The speaker said he thought the reply of Lord Lansdowne, the under secretary for foreign affairs, to Dr. Kuyper, was fitting and dignified, but he thought that the government had acted wrongly in declining to reckon with the Boer delegates in Europe and refusing to allow them to send a deputation to South Africa.

"The trouble with the government," said Lord Rosebery, "is that they are always thinking of the present. I try to think of the future when Boer and Briton will have to live together in South Africa."

RUSSIANS SAY THEY EXPECTED TREATY

A Diversity of Opinion Exists at St. Petersburg and Paris.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 14.—The few morning newspapers which commented upon the Anglo-Japanese treaty intimated that Russia was a party to both the preliminary negotiations and the treaty itself.

The St. Petersburg Zeitung welcomes the general intent of the agreement to preserve the integrity of China and Corea (which Russia is so pre-eminently and entirely expressed itself in favor of. The aims of the island powers, therefore, nowise clash with Russia's intentions. So the agreement raises no anxiety whatever.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—The Anglo-Japanese alliance continues to be the topic for considerable discussion in the French press. The consensus of opinion is that it is directed against Russia and that, therefore, it may lead to tension in the far east.

The Temps this evening says: It calls for a complement, and that is the entry of the United States into the alliance. If the sympathies of the official world alone are necessary this will be quickly done. But it is necessary to reckon with the persistence and strength of the anti-British sentiment of the masses and also, in spite of the progress of aggressive, conquering imperialism in the United States, with the strength of the traditions of non-intervention, to which Washington, Jefferson, Monroe, Jackson and Lincoln attached their names.

If you want your vote to count for reform, vote the Citizens' ticket.

Hegelman and Cavanaugh Still Lead the Walkers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—With the beginning of the fifth day only 16 teams were competing in the six-day walking match. The Hurst brothers were off the track for two hours this morning. For the past two days the English team has been making up lost ground rapidly. They became exhausted by their exertions and both retired to rest at the same time. The leaders were 125 miles ahead of the one-day records. The 9 o'clock score was: Hegelman and Cavanaugh, 685 miles 4 laps; Shelton and Guerrero, 645 miles 8 laps; Pabey and Meckus, 641 miles 1 lap; Golden and Fenck, 634 miles 3 laps; Glick and Howarth, 601 miles 2 laps; Norenac and Cartwright, 573 miles 8 laps; Feensy and Feenay, 566 miles 2 laps; Fraser and Sullivan, 562 miles 7 laps; Davis and Carroll, 555 miles 8 laps; Dean and Campbell, 546 miles 1 lap.

Free yourself from oppression by voting the Citizens ticket.

A Pittsburgher a Winner.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—Eddie Kennedy of Pittsburgh has the better of the six-round go with Nelson Hall of Camden, N. J., at the Central Athletic club tonight.

The bout was particularly fast one, each man doing good execution. In the fourth round Kennedy almost had Hall out.

His Connection With Note to the Powers Was Unofficial.

MR. NORMAN IS ANSWERED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The under secretary for foreign affairs, Lord Cranborne, replying in the house of commons today to a question of Henry Norman (Liberal) on the subject of the action of the British ambassador at Washington, Lord Pauncefote, April 14, 1898, said:

"The meeting which occurred April 14, 1898, was convened by Lord Pauncefote as dean of the ambassadors, at the verbal suggestion of some of his colleagues. Whatever opinions were expressed by Lord Pauncefote during the discussion, which was of an informal character, were personal to himself and not pursuant to instructions from her majesty.

"The discussion resulted in an agreement to forward an identical telegram to their respective governments suggesting a further communication to the United States government. On receipt of this message her majesty's government immediately replied by objecting to the terms of the communication as injudicious. Two days later Lord Pauncefote was informed that her majesty's government had decided to take no action. We at the time had no information of the attitude of the German government."

The committee of the International Arbitration and Peace association, at a meeting in London today, unanimously passed a resolution in regard to the reply of the under secretary of state for foreign affairs, Lord Cranborne, to Henry Norman in the house of commons "from which it appears that Great Britain declined to associate itself with the chief continental powers in a second note to the United States urging a peaceful settlement of the dispute with Spain, which course The Hague convention declared it to be the duty of the powers when a dispute occurs between any two of them. While the committee fully shares the desire of all classes of the British that there should be permanent peace and friendship between Great Britain and the United States, the committee views with alarm any attempt to use that bond as a means of offending the moral sentiment of the rest of the world or in betraying those supreme interests on which depends general peace."

An abundance of pure water can be secured at a fair cost to the consumer by voting for the candidates on the Citizens' ticket.

M'CLURE CASE NOW IN HANDS OF THE JUDGES

Arguments on Petition for Injunction Against the Treasurer Heard.

GUTHRIE CITES THE LAW

Attorney for Citizens and Democrats Declares Registration Provisions Were Lived Up To and Restraining Order Should Not Be Granted.

Yesterday was argument day in the injunction proceedings against County Treasurer Thomas C. McClure. George W. Guthrie and William B. Rodgers, for the Citizens and Democrats, and J. Scott Ferguson, for Edward L. Edwards, the petitioner, filed their briefs with Judges R. S. Frazer, John D. Shafer and Elliott Rodgers, before the case has been heard in common pleas court No. 2. The decision is now pending.

George W. Guthrie, attorney for the Citizens party, opened the argument by quoting from the registration laws and showing that after the register assessors had completed their lists additional lists of electors that had not been registered had been given to the county commissioners, who placed them on the tax duplicates, giving the added lists to the county treasurer and the county delinquent tax collector.

"This was all done in strict accordance with the registration laws," declared Mr. Guthrie, "and therefore we assume the injunction asked for by the petitioner should not be granted."

Thought Testimony Ended.

"I understood," said Mr. Ferguson, "that the testimony in this case closed yesterday afternoon. I therefore object to hearing any today."

"I am not giving testimony," replied Mr. Guthrie. "I am simply trying to show our side of the case. You surely don't want an injunction granted against something that never existed."

"The acts of assembly speak for themselves," Mr. Ferguson said. "If the assessors failed to do their duty it is too late now to remedy their faults."

"It is not a question what they have or have not done," Judge Shafer said, "but what will be done."

"Did not the county commissioners put the names on the books?" asked Judge Frazer.

"Yes, but the names were put on after January 18," Mr. Ferguson replied.

Mr. Ferguson then began his argument in the case. He said the bill itself outlines fully the premises of the petitioner.

Evidence of Fraud.

"There is evidence everywhere in this case," he continued, "of fraud. I recognize the general law regarding the payment of taxes, which allows a messenger to pay an elector's taxes provided he is given a written order signed by the elector who wants his taxes paid. We shall contend, however, that the orders in this case were not written, but printed, there being a specific distinction between the two. Again, these assessments were not made at the proper time, and many of them call for the payment of taxes for the year '900—.' Those are not orders at all. Then the names must be entered upon the county commissioners' books 62 days before the election. This, all admit, was not done. Therefore none of the orders are valid and should not be honored. Besides, every one of these orders shows political authority and not the authority of the electors.

Not an Assessment.

"And let me tell you another thing. The registry list is in no sense an assessment of tax," he continued. "That is done by the county commissioners. This is the outline of my argument."

Mr. Guthrie then opened for the defense. He said: "I desire to say that if there be any way to end this paying of taxes for others by political parties no one would welcome such a thing more gladly than I. I have long attacked the practice, as I consider it a dangerous abuse of the rights of the people. The act of 1897 was intended by its framers to accomplish the abuse I complain of. The practice is to pay in gross amounts to the county treasurer and get in return all the tax receipts the parties want. The object was not to stop the evil, but to defeat the decision of the supreme court against the practice of securing blank receipts.

Disfranchisement Possible.

"In that way a political party can disfranchise electors who do not vote its way. The act is, therefore, misleading and vicious.

"As to the matter of written or printed orders, 'printing' is a form of writing, so is type-written manuscript. Wills and deeds partly printed and type-written are admitted for probate every day without question."

Judge Frazer: "We will not argue that matter," Mr. Guthrie."

Mr. Guthrie contended that the county delinquent tax collector is a part of the county treasurer's office force; that it is the duty of the county treasurer to receive all moneys and that if taxes remain unpaid four months he orders the county collector to collect them.

"The act of '91 makes the office in a measure independent, although, the treasurer appoints the collector," suggested Judge Frazer.

Simply a Check.

"It simply puts a check on the collector," Mr. Guthrie said, "and makes him responsible to the county commissioners.

"How do these additional lists get to the county commissioners?" asked Judge Frazer.

Mr. Guthrie: "When an elector finds he cannot get a tax receipt, although he has handed his name to the register assessor in good time, because his name is not on the tax duplicate, he notifies the county commissioners and they put his name on the list and hands it over to the county treasurer or county collector. Is there anything wrong in such procedure?"

"Why could not that be done before the 42 days limit expires?" asked Judge Shafer.

Mr. Guthrie: "The office of the delinquent tax collector is so crowded, that the applicant cannot find out he is not on the list. Think of 6,000 certificates being issued to the Republican city committee alone."

Judge Shafer's Question.

Judge Shafer: "Why not go to the commissioners' office, then?"

Mr. Guthrie: "The duplicates are in the collector's office or that of the county treasurer."

Judge Shafer: "Won't the records show?"

Mr. Guthrie: "While that is true, theoretically, it is impossible to do so now. There are so many records to consult. If a person's name is omitted from the list the law says the assessor shall "forthwith place it on the books. That is, of those who claim the right to vote."

W. B. Rodgers then made his argument and filed a brief. It was to the effect that the plaintiff had no standing in court for the reason that he is simply an elector and not a taxpayer; that he did not state how he would be affected in case fraud was practiced; that he stood by while thousands of receipts were being issued to the Republican city committee, he being a candidate on the Republican ticket.

Raised Cry of Fraud.

Then when his opponents wanted to get 44 receipts he raised the cry of "fraud." He, therefore, had no right in court," declared Mr. Rodgers. "His hands are not clean. Therefore he has no right in court." Mr. Ferguson then closed his argument.

He said he was there to see that no one got any more tax receipts for the reason that the time has passed for the issuing of tax receipts for the coming election. He argued that the court has the right to adjust any wrong.

"Surely there is a wrong—yes, many wrongs in this instance," he said.

He again brought up the question of the orders being "written," but Judge Shafer said that read reference to "parole" and not printing blanks. Mr. Ferguson said the election laws might as well be stricken from the statute books as to permit such a fraud to be perpetrated. He said there is no evidence that the assessments had been made legally and asked that the injunction be sustained.

He then submitted his brief and the court announced that it would hand down an opinion in the case later.

PARK PROJECT WAS SHELVED BY COMMITTEE

Action Deferred on Petition of Daughters of American Revolution.

DESIRES WERE OUTLINED

Purchase or Condemnation of Property Bounded by Duquesne Way, Penn Avenue, Third Street and Water Street Was Suggested.

The finance committee of councils yesterday shelved the petition for a public park around the old block house at the Point. It referred the paper to a subcommittee consisting of James W. Platt, John Paul and M. G. Leslie. The petition bore the signatures of 200 property owners of Pittsburgh, including officers and members of the Daughters and Sons of the American Revolution. A quorum of the finance committee to consider the matter was obtained after considerable difficulty yesterday afternoon. A committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution, accompanied by three lawyers, was present to argue in favor of the petition. Those on the committee of the patriotic society were Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, Miss Matilda W. Denny, Miss Kate C. McKnight, Miss Julia Morgan Harding, Miss Beulah Kennard.

Attorney S. W. Childs spoke for the petitioners. He made a lengthy plea in behalf of the project for the city to acquire, by purchase or condemnation, the property lying between Duquesne way and Penn avenue, Third and Water streets, as a site for a down-town park to surround the old block house.

Mr. Childs said that he had obtained reliable estimates from real estate dealers, showing that the probable price of the property between Penn avenue and Duquesne way, Water and First streets would be in the neighborhood of $640,000, the property extending east from Water to Second streets, $1,000,000, and the whole tract from Water to Third streets, $2,000,000.

Kirk Q. Bigham asked the attorney how the city was expected to raise the money to buy the property and inquired if the Daughters of Revolution could not get better terms from the owner, Mrs. Schenley, than could be obtained by the city.

Mr. Childs replied that he had been informed that Mrs. Schenley had given options to the warehouse syndicate. Mr. Bigham remarked that the city could only buy the property by a bond issue.

After remarks by Mrs. Ammon, Miss McKnight, Miss Kennard and others, the matter was disposed of by referring it to a sub-committee, where it is expected to remain for an indefinite period.

MANY VALENTINES DELAYED UNTIL TODAY

Letter Carriers and Postoffices Were Swamped With the Tender Missives This Year.

St. Valentine created so much work for the letter carriers in Pittsburgh and Allegheny yesterday that the time of delivery for many a tender missive will be delayed until today. Never in the history of the local postoffice has the mail been so burdened with reminders of the day as this year. While the usual delivery and receipts are very heavy the offices were swamped yesterday. No record is kept at the postoffices and exactly how much extra mail was handled is not known. Editions de luxe of popular books, dainty bric-a-brac and the like played a prominent part in the observance of the day.

The Pittsburgh postoffice had all it could do. "Since last Saturday," said Superintendent of Mails L. E. Palmer, "we have been very nearly swamped. We have, however, been able to take care of it all and have gotten the mail delivered promptly. The business has been the heaviest in the history of St. Valentine's day."

Local dealers say that they have been sold out of all their stock of valentines. The demand has been unprecedented in this city. Harry F. Davis of R. S. Davis & Co. said yesterday: "There were the usual novelties, but the most expensive valentines sold off as rapidly as the cheaper kind. Young and old have thronged our store since the valentines were placed on sale."

At Weldin's the stock was about cleaned out. The sale of valentines was the greatest in the history of the store, one of the firm said yesterday.

The calendar of the Roman Catholic church contains 22 names of canonized saints of the name of Valentine. First among them was St. Valentine, bishop of Terni, in Umbria, who died 273 A. D. Another was St. Valentine of Tero, Spain, who was martyred during the persecutions of Trajan.

The most celebrated and the one commonly connected with the popular celebration of St. Valentine's day in English-speaking countries was a Roman priest who was martyred during the reign of Emperor Claudius. His remains are preserved in one of the chapels of Santa Frassede in Rome.

Vote for the Citizens' ticket to get rid of an extra annual fire assessment of $600,000 on downtown property.

NO BILLS PRESENTED FOR MRS. SOFFEL'S CARE

County Commissioners Deny Receipt of Any Statements of Expense in Biddle Case.

The county commissioners yesterday denied that they had received any bills from the Butler County General hospital for the care and attention of Mrs. Soffel. They also denied that any application had been made to them for the payment of the expenses of the captors of the Biddles. The claimants of the reward make no mention of expenses incurred. The commissioners say that no such claims would be entertained under any circumstances.

Peter K. Soffel, the suspended warden, was at the jail for a short time yesterday morning and was joined by Mrs. Jacob Miller, Mrs. Soffel's sister. They then went to the warden's residence and Mrs. Miller packed Mrs. Soffel's belongings and had them removed to her home on Mt. Washington. A wagon also transferred a number of household effects to the home of Warden Soffel's father.

Attorney Richard B. Scandrett said that as soon as Mrs. Soffel was able to leave the hospital at Butler, bail would be entered there for her, as the act of the legislature authorized, and that it would not be necessary to bring her here under arrest for that purpose.

Mrs. Soffel is not under arrest at present, although she is carefully guarded. The warrants will be served, two for aiding and abetting the escape of prisoners, and one for felonious shooting, as soon as she is able to leave the hospital, and at the same time bail will be offered and accepted.

It is not yet decided whether she will then come to Pittsburgh to her relatives and friends, or will be taken to some place far removed from the scene of her disgrace, where she can gradually recover her mental balance.

Mrs. Soffel's condition is rapidly improving.

The Citizens' ticket can be voted in safety since the secrecy of the ballot-box is insured.

The loss was reported to No. 4 police station yesterday afternoon.

Gave Collection to Museum—Harry S. Vandergrift yesterday presented to the Carnegie museum his collection of coins and currency. Just how many pieces there are in this collection cannot be told. Mr. Vandergrift was nearly 20 years in collecting it and it filled a large trunk. For some years it has been stored in the vaults of the Fidelity Title and Trust Company. It cost Mr. Vandergrift about $5,000 to make the collection, and many of the pieces are now worth double what was paid for them. Among the collections is the first $2 bill issued by the city of Pittsburgh.

The way to secure well-paved streets at a fair cost is by voting the Citizens' ticket.

Changes in Officials—James A. Brady, general sales agent of the Pressed Steel Car Company, whose headquarters were in New York, has retired from the company to take up other business affiliations. W. O. Jacquette, who has been in charge of the Chicago office of the car company and formerly the comptroller here, succeeds Mr. Brady, who, it is understood, will take a long vacation trip abroad. C. B. Postlethwaite, who has been assistant secretary of the company, relinquishes that office today to become a traveling representative of the company. His successor in the Pittsburgh office has not yet been appointed.

Unless you want your taxes raised by extravagant expenditures, vote the Citizens' ticket.

Still in Conference—General officials of the Federation Co-Operative Window Glass Company spent another day in Pittsburgh yesterday in conference with the American Window Glass Company officials and leading jobbers here, including the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, in relation to the trade situation. President J. R. Johnston denied that headquarters are to be moved to Pittsburgh, it being the intention to maintain western headquarters at Muncie, Ind., and an eastern office in Philadelphia. Another branch office may be opened in Pittsburgh. Window glass prices, the quotations in less than car lots being 9 and 10 per cent off the jobbers' list.

Progress and economy in municipal affairs will be furthered by a vote for the Citizens' ticket.

Engineer Was Asleep—William Jackson, the engineer; Morris Eckles, the fireman, and Gustav Lewis, a brakeman of the train causing the wreck at Haysville on Monday, were held for court yesterday by the coroner's jury. Jackson, the engineer, acknowledged that he was asleep. Eckles said he was firing at the time, but the jury said he should have been on the lookout. Lewis was in the fireman's seat, and said he did not see the train ahead, and knew nothing of it until after the crash. He denied that he was asleep. Jackson has been an engineer for 17 years and has never before been in a wreck where there was a life lost. Jackson has already furnished bail, and the other two will probably do so today.

Raided Twice in Two Days—Lieutenant of Police D. Peter Kim of Allegheny last night again raided the residence of George Crapple on Pike street. The other raid was made on Thursday night, in which Crapple and his wife and eight visitors were arrested. At the hearing yesterday morning Crapple and his wife were sent 90 days to the workhouse by Magistrate Henry Hunneshagen and the rest were fined $10 and costs or 60 days to the works. Among those who paid their fines was May Walsh, and when she was released she took charge of the Crapple house. Last night she invited in Charles Barkley of Wilmerding and David McKelroy, Jr., of Ellsworth street, Allegheny. They started in to renew the hilarities of the night before when the neighbors again called upon the police to stop the disorder. All three named were locked up in Central station charged with disorderly conduct.

An honest management of public affairs can only be secured through the ballot-box. Vote the Citizens' ticket.

A STEADY WORKER.

Coffee Works Slow but Sure.

Many people use coffee day after day without an idea of the serious work it does with nerves, stomach, bowels, and sometimes with the eyes, heart and kidneys. Its work is done gradually, that is, the poison affects the nerve centers a little today and a little tomorrow, and so on, and finally the nerve cells are slowly broken down and then Nature begins the call for help.

It is a safe proposition that if a man or woman has headaches, stomach trouble, or any such ailments come on at intervals, something is wrong with the food or drink, and this question should be investigated carefully, for health is the best capital any one can possess and willfully breaking it down is a piece of childish folly.

It is easy to leave off coffee if one will take Postum Food Coffee, properly made, for Postum has a delicious coffee flavor and a deep seal brown color which changes to golden brown when cream is added, and it satisfies the coffee drinker without any of the bad effects of coffee; on the contrary, the result of using Postum is the rebuilding of the broken down nerve centers by the food elements contained in it.

Postum is a pure food beverage made by scientific food makers and can be depended upon absolutely for its purity and the good results that follow its use.

To bring out the flavor and food value Postum must be boiled at least 15 minutes after the boiling begins.

Violation of the Law.

In the tax receipt inquiry Judge Frazer learned from the chief clerk of the county treasurer's office that it is the custom of the office to violate the law.

"Do you make a daily report to the county controller of the money you take in?" asked Judge Frazer.

"Well, no," stammered Rodgers. "I make my report to him at the end of the month."

"Don't you know that the law compels you to make daily reports?" continued Judge Frazer.

In this manner Judge Frazer developed that the office which issued 6,000 tax receipts to the Stone campaign managers, refusing them none, as the county treasurer testified, habitually violated the law in one particular. The treasurer and his chief clerk are not on trial for this offense, but that there has been such an offense is now a matter of record. It does not necessarily follow that because the law is violated in the matter of accounting to the controller it is violated in other ways, but it is very disturbing to find that county officers who are sworn to obey the law are forced to admit that they use their discretion as to whether they shall obey its mandate. It was quite a surprise to Judge Frazer, and so it is to the rest of us. But it is not surprising if men who admit disobedience of the law engage in an effort to disfranchise voters who are suspected of being unfriendly to the proceeding that made Pittsburgh an asset in a deal for "mutual political and business advantage."

Men of all parties should unite to overthrow the ring which preys upon and corrupts all parties.

The Tax Receipt Infamy.

The arguments in court yesterday brought into bolder relief the jugglery of the tax receipts by which the postscript organization was given 6,000 receipts while every possible impediment was being placed in the way of other organizations. The Stone alliance having secured all the receipts it was after, it is now endeavoring through its candidate for council in the Second ward to prevent the opposition organizations being similarly favored. Were not the P. S. aggregation fearful of the result on election day it would not be so anxious about this matter. It is quite apparent the managers of the campaign designed to perpetuate the Stone regime realize that they are under popular condemnation, and instead of trying to gain the favor of the people they are trying to win an election by disfranchising them, after the manner in which victories are won in the south. The governor's friends are staggering under a heavy load of popular disapproval. The placing of the city on the bargain counter at Harrisburg is a strong count in the indictment against them. The juggling of the Highland reservoir contract to enable contractors and their bondsmen to escape their well-assumed and lawful responsibility is another. The burdening of the people with bond issues, the proceeds of which are permitted to lie in the banks while the improvements for which they are intended wait, is still another. Then there is the failure to provide proper fire protection while covering into the treasury for current general expenses the large surplus revenue from the water service. The whole record, as the people see it, is one of extravagance and dilatoriness and subordination of the public interests to mutual political and business advantage. The tax receipt juggle is on its face designed to perpetuate this state of affairs by the disfranchisement of voters.

Progress and economy in municipal affairs will be furthered by a vote for the Citizens' ticket.

The Ransom of Miss Stone.

The ransom for the release of Miss Stone and her companion has been paid. Her release, then, if it has not already taken place, is a matter of certainty. The brigands, although the most consummate cut-throats in the world have a keen appreciation of a policy of fidelity in a matter of this kind. Miss Stone's release has been rumored so often, and as often contradicted, that until the captive is actually in the hands of her friends it is the part of wisdom to await full corroboration of the fact before moralizing upon the interminable efforts that have been made during the past six months to effect her escape. That the poor woman has suffered intensely from her confinement in the mountain fastness in which she was secured there can be no doubt. The brigands may not have been consciously cruel but life in such an environment, and the utter uncertainty of what the next day would bring forth must have been torture to her.

An honest management of public affairs can only be secured through the ballot-box. Vote the Citizens' ticket.

The Business Situation.

So far as the volume of domestic trade is concerned it continues satisfactory. The output of the two great industries, iron and steel, is now at the maximum. The capacity of the pig iron furnaces in blast on the 1st inst. was 340,000 tons, the largest ever reported, and during the month of January furnace supplies decreased 64,000 tons, indicating that consumption still exceeds production. At the present rate the consumption would amount to 18,000,000 tons a year, as compared with 16,000,000 tons last year, which was the largest on record. Necessarily the output of coal and coke has increased, and the demand for the former for domestic purposes has been stimulated by the wintry weather prevailing all over the country. Here and there some falling off in railroad earnings is reported, due to extremely cold weather in some sections and to a decreased movement of grain in others, but the average net loss is insignificant.

The textile trade is also showing improvement, an advance having occurred this week in the price of standard print cloths, and the Fall River mills are said to be sold ahead to May delivery. The destructive fire at Paterson may be expected to have some effect upon prices of silks, and possibly shift demand for the latter to other grades of goods. Raw cotton has advanced, mainly because of speculation based upon the belief of a shortage in the world's supplies.

The volume of our foreign commerce is maintained at the high totals reported for corresponding periods in previous years, but to those who have an eye single to the credit balance, the results are not so favorable. During the month of January, the operations for which have just been reported by the government, there was an increase of $10,900,000 in the value of imports of merchandise, compared with January, 1901, and a decrease of $7,300,000 in exports. The falling off in the latter, however, is due almost wholly to the lighter shipments of corn. Last month we exported only a little more than 1,000,000 bushels of this cereal, valued at less than $700,000. In January, 1901, the exports were more than 19,000,000 bushels, valued at $8,400,000. The increase in imports may be set down to the increased purchasing power of the masses in the United States, and possibly the demand has been stimulated by the lower prices which the necessities of foreign manufacturers have compelled them to make. In this view of the situation, the change in the current of foreign trade is not wholly unfavorable.

In financial circles there is an unprecedented degree of activity. This is not manifested so much in the stock market as in the enormous expansion in loans reported by the banks. What this expansion foreshadows cannot be stated with certainty at this time, but it is surmised that it is the forerunner of consolidations on the plan of those which marked the beginning of last year. The domestic money market has remained easy, no gold was engaged for export, and there was additional evidence of improvement in the foreign monetary situation.

An abundance of pure water can be secured at a fair cost to the consumer by voting for the candidates on the Citizens' ticket.

No Escape from Responsibility.

According to the Times the increased insurance paid in the downtown district is "just one half the sum that has been named." In a report of the chamber of commerce after an investigation of the subject the increase was given as $800,000. "Just one half the sum" is $400,000—a mere bagatelle, according to the views of the postscript campaigners for "mutual political and business advantage." Until the chamber of commerce revises its estimate it will be believed that the increase is $800,000, but if it should prove to be "just one half the sum named," the amount is $400,000 larger than it should be. A tax of $400,000 a year on the business properties of one section of the city because of the negligence of the people in control of the city government to provide adequate facilities for fighting fire is a heavy burden to carry, and if it is not $800,000, as has been said, it is no feather in the cap of the postscript administration. It doesn't soften the character of the criminal who bludgeons a man for his money that he only half kills him or that he overlooks the money or valuables in the other pocket. If the increased payment for fire insurance is not $800,000 but $400,000, it is not the fault of the men in charge of the city government. They are entitled to no credit for the difference.

In this connection the attempt to fasten the responsibility on E. M. Bigelow falls flat. It is the postscript government and not E. M. Bigelow that is on trial, and it is not forgotten that it is the present postscript annex that forced Mr. Bigelow out of office when he was endeavoring to do his duty. Furthermore, Mr. Bigelow's department was never responsible for the protection of the city from fire, that responsibility being attached to the department of public safety, formerly presided over by the gentleman who is now city recorder. It was his duty to know whether the water supply was sufficient to fight fire and to insist on it being made sufficient if found inadequate. He dealt directly with councils in all matters concerning his department, and some that had no relation to it, and the power of himself and friends over the municipal egislature was clearly demonstrated in the case with which they turned E. M. Bigelow out of office when he insisted on running his own department according to law. They could have secured adequate fire protection for the city just as easily as they secured the dismissal of Bigelow, and cannot place the blame on Bigelow because they did not exercise their undoubted power. The postscript administration hopes too much from public forgetfulness when it seeks to transfer to Bigelow's account its own shortcomings. He is no more responsible for the conditions that add to the burdens of insured property than for the failure of the Eighth street engine house to be equal to the purposes for which it was intended. It is the public safety branch of the postscript administration that is and has been responsible for the fire service.

Get What You Ask For.

Customers who know what they want should always insist upon getting it when they go forth to buy. It is extremely annoying, when one asks for a certain article, to be told by the clerk that the establishment has something just as good and much cheaper. It is a short-sighted policy on the part of the merchant, for most persons will seek another store next time rather than render themselves liable to receive unsolicited advice of this kind. The practice of "substitution," moreover, if not dishonest, has a leaning toward dishonesty, for it aims to divert the advantages obtained by the manufacturers of well-known articles through the expenditure of a great deal of money. Publicity which has made preparations valuable articles of commerce is expensive to obtain, and the men who have obtained it are entitled to enjoy the fruits of their enterprise.

Substitution is unjust to customers, too. They are enfitled to what they are willing to pay for. They know that something which has won public confidence is far more likely to be kept up to the proper standard of excellence than some unknown preparation, because the well-known article has a reputation to maintain, in order that the capital already invested therein shall continue to prove profitable. The merchant who says he has something just as good, therefore, is more likely to be wrong than right. The correction of the "substitution" evil lies with the customers. Let them insist upon getting what they ask for.

The paramount issue is whether the voters of Pittsburgh will indorse Stone's conversion of charter reform into a bargain sale.

Of course, if the pneumonia had heard those stories about the senior Teddy and the mountain lions it would never have had the courage to tackle Teddy, Jr.

From the speech of the Hon. Mr. Wheeler in congress yesterday we take it that he has not received a front seat coupon for the coronation exercises.

It is interesting to ask on which side of the fence the clamoring and friendly European nations would now be if Spain had licked us in 1898.

It would be too bad if Prince Henry should reach New York before the chaperone committee gets its hat on straight.

Suitable quarters should be found in the big stone building on Grant street for visiting ballot box stuffers.

Tuesday next ought to be a great day for the citizen who believes in government for and by the people.

The local graft gang will doubtless be quite busy for several days looking after the comfort of its guests.

Governor Stone is going right ahead making friends among the people whose necks are in danger.

If Miss Stone escapes being liberated this week it will be by a very narrow margin.

Wyatt Earp rules still prevail in the tax collector's office.

SUZANNE ADAMS WAS GIVEN AN OVATION

American Operatic Star Was in Splendid Voice and Orchestra Work Was Unusually Good.

Suzanne Adams, the charming American songstress, was tendered a real ovation at the Pittsburgh orchestra concert last night. A splendid audience filled the hall and the applause was of the kind to delight an artist, being intermingled with audible murmurs and exclamations of pleasure and appreciation.

The solos were well chosen to show Miss Adams' melodious though not especially powerful voice in its best light. The beautiful extract from "Traviata," well known and popular with music lovers the world over, introduced her, and after several recalls she gave an encore number, a dainty little song in English, which was fully as warmly received as the more ambitious attempt.

In the second half of the program Miss Adams sang Stern's "Springtime" waltz with lovely effect, this music also suiting her voice especially well. This was repeated after half a dozen recalls, each of which was marked by a sinuous and remarkable curtsey savoring of court appearances and formal poses.

A second encore was necessary and a third would have been warmly welcomed by the audience. Miss Adams' charm as a vocalist were undoubtedly enhanced by the fact that she is an American girl who has succeeded by hard work and study in placing herself among the lauded operatic stars of the day.

The orchestral program was not less interesting than the soloist, opening with "The Barber of Bagdad," an overture practically new to Pittsburgh, by Cornelius, who was one of the most arent of the Wagner supporters. The music is brilliant and pleasing, and the edition was so spirited as to bring out the best effects throughout. Stanford's "Irish Symphony," which was played last season and sprang into instant popularity, was likewise very well rendered, the third movement being especially effective. A serenade by Saint-Saens, relete with harmonious beauty, and a Habanera by Chabrier opened the second part of the program, and the closing number was a Hungerdinck march from ne of the fairy operas with which its composer some years ago struck a ew note in operatic composition. It is brilliant and striking, full of characteristic rhythms, and as the rendition left nothing to be desired it will be most favorably remembered.

PADEREWSKI AWAY WIELD BATON IN PITTSBURGH

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.

Paderewski's opera, "Manru," which was produced this evening at the Metropolitan with spectacular success, will be sung in Pittsburgh on April 15. This is positive. It will be given with the same cast that appeared in it tonight, as follows: Ulana, Mme. Sembrich; Hedwig, Mme. Louise Homer; Asa, Miss Frizi Scheff; Manru, Mr. von Bandrewski; Oros, Mr. Muhlmann; Jagu, Mr. Blass, and Urok, David Bispham. There probably will be one interesting feature in the Pittsburgh presentation that was lacking at the Metropolitan this evening. Paderewski may conduct his opera in person. He and George H. Wilson, the Pittsburgh impresario, are personal friends of long standing, and Mr. Wilson has asked the composer to direct the opera on the occasion of its Pittsburgh performance. It is more than likely that Paderewski will comply, although it cannot be stated officially now. The friendship of the composer and manager dates from 1893. It was then that Mr. Wilson, with Theodore Thomas, entertained Paderewski at the World's Fair, when the pianist tendered his services as soloist at the opening of the great exposition. He said that he did it for two reasons. One was as a compliment to Mr. Thomas, whom he admired as a musician and a man, and the other was to show his appreciation of the kindly way the American people had received him when he made his two tours of the country before the fair opened. A loving cup was presented to the pianist on that occasion, and the 10 persons that subscribed were George H. Wilson, Frank Millet, Ernest R. Graham, Charles F. McKim, James W. Ellsworth, Charles L. Hutchinson, Henry B. Stone, H. M. Higginbotham, Lyman J. Gage and Mr. Burnham. Messrs. Burnham and McKim, the architects, have designed several of the great buildings now erecting or soon to be erected in Pittsburgh. Mr. Wilson was present at the performance of "Manru" this evening and says enthusiastically that it is a great work.

Monocle Craze Threatened.

Monocles are to be the style in New York. At least that is what Broadway opticians assert. They say that the single eyeglass is more popular in London than ever, and that the one-windowed looker" will be worn by hundreds of New Yorkers who have despised the custom hitherto. The monocle will be common in Broadway and Fifth avenue this spring. The glass is made for a particular optical ailment that is very common, and the single eyeglass is the only remedy that will deal with it effectually.

Fistic Thunder Before the Lightning.

At length and at last Fitzsimmons, whom his admirers call "the grand old man," has agreed to meet that other fistic virtuoso, Jeffries, on his own terms. Unfortunately the fight is not to take place for some months, so that there is not much prospect that the turgid torrent of boasting talk will be stemmed yet awhile.

Gotham Unsentimental.

New York has "passed up" St. Valentine. Out of 75,000,000 valentines made in the United States, most of which were manufactured in Brooklyn, this city used only 25,000. The rest of them went west, and Pittsburgh got its share. New York seems to be too busy to send love tokens of lace and gilt-paper, flowers and tender verses, just because this is the 14th of February, and it is not vindictive enough to take the trouble to buy and mail the "penny dreadfuls" to persons it does not like.

The City's Uneasy Skyline.

President Cantor of the borough of Manhattan is about to take a hand in the subway explosions. He will not help the explosions along, but, on the other hand, will see if something cannot be done to prevent the perpetual shocks to houses and persons by the blasting that is going on day and night in the rapid transit tunnel work. Mr. Cantor has asked the rapid transit commission if they cannot do something in the matter besides pass resolutions. He is an energetic official, and if he takes hold of it personally, there will be some explosions outside of the subway that will make someone shiver; but they will not be dynamite explosions. Mr. Cantor wants reform in this direction, and is determined to have it. He has directed the superintendent of buildings to investigate the condition of houses affected by the blasting, and if the report is that they are in a dangerous condition they will be emptied of their occupants and condemned. Then someone will have heavy damages to pay. In one of the evening papers there is a cartoon showing "the skyline of New York." The "skyline" consists mainly of men, women, children, horses, carriages, furniture, and pretty much everything that should be on the ground, flying a long way above the roofs and towers of the skyscrapers. And it is not so much of an exaggeration, either.

Getting Hardened to Danger.

There was a collision on the "L" yesterday. It did not do very much damage, but it scared one young woman out of her senses, and she is said to be a raving maniac today. Doubtless she will soon recover. The significant part of it is that New Yorkers are accustomed to consider "L" roads perfectly safe that when there is a slight smash-up, they are rendered hysterical. Now, subway explosions do not trouble them. They are used to being shot into the air by a dynamite charge, and regard it as only a routine incident.

Municipal Extortion Hard to Kill.

Tammany is out of power, but some Tammany methods remain. A clerk in the street cleaning department was held in $1,000 bail today on a charge of extorting money from laborers under him. Two street cleaners, Italians, swear that they have been paying the accused man $2 and $4 a month, respectively, to hold their jobs. Whether this particular man is guilty or not the examination will bring out; but Gazette readers may remember that a description of this kind of extortion in New York was given in detail in this paper some months ago. It is one of those abuses that is hard to get at, because the sufferers are foreigners usually, with an indifferent knowledge of the English language, and because they prefer to pay 50 cents or $1 a week and hold their employment than to make a fuss that would not mean anything for them but trouble and being out of work.

A St. Valentine Joke.

B. R. T. has been getting it again. Down in Wall street today messenger boys were continuously delivering leaflets to brokers, bankers and others, by the hundred, attacking the directors of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Railway Company on account of the proposed issue of bonds to the amount of $130,000,000. This bond issue has been discussed from all sides for the last week or two, so that the attack today must be regarded rather as a grim St. Valentine's day joke than as a serious arraignment of the board's business methods.

Ice Causes Accumulated Garbage.

That long-suffering municipal official, the street-cleaning commissioner, turned upon his tormentors today. He is Dr. John McGaw Woodbury, a gentleman notoriously full of fight. Here is what he said to a grumbler this afternoon, according to the report of those that heard the colloquy: "You think the streets look bad, do you? You dislike to see the ashes and garbage cans piled up all over the city? Well, go down and look at the East Side dump. That looks like h—." The trouble is that the river is blocked with ice and the garbage scows cannot get through it. The commissioner says that the moving of daily refuse will not get back to its old schedule for 40 days and 40 nights. The garbage problem in New York is a serious one—much greater than in Pittsburgh, on account of the flat life that is the general thing here.

Weinstein and Paur.

The piano concert given by Albert Weinstein, assisted by the Emil Paur orchestra, at Carnegie hall last night, was excellent. Each selection seemed to create more enthusiasm. Weinstein's three solos of selections by Chopin, Paderewski and Schuman-Liszt were indeed rich and the last selection by Liszt—the Hungarian fantasie—whereiu Weinstein led the orchestra with the piano, was a masterful effort. Emil Paur as a director is one of the old school, and his aides were well coached. There was an enthusiastic and brilliant audience.

Original Ferris Wheel for New York.

New York has had the "cycle whirl," the "barrel of love," the "loop-the-loop" and the "shoot-the-chutes." All these have been at Coney Island as the fitting place for such tempestuous amusements. Now we are to have the original Ferris wheel, just as it was at the World's Fair. It is to be set up in May at some summer resort in or near New York city, and the supposition is that the resort is "old Coney." A company with $1,000,000 capital has bought the machine outright.

Paderewski's Brilliant Success.

Broadway had not presented so busy and brilliant an appearance at the theater hour all winter as it did tonight. This was the big operatic night, and even the gala performance in honor of Prince Henry will not call out more carriages or make a more extensive demonstration in Broadway than was seen this evening as the audience was assembling for the first presentation in this country of Ignace Paderewski's opera, "Manru." It seemed as if every music lover that could get there was at the Metropolitan, while, of course, the old guard of operagoers was there in force. Mrs. Paderewski was the most delighted woman in the great building, and her husband's success almost overcame her at intervals. It is largely her own success, by the way, for she brought from Galicia the peasant costumes worn by the chorus, and that of Mme. Sembrich was modeled on them.

Will Hunt for Prehistoric Horse.

William C. Whitney is an enthusiastic lover of the horse, and his regard for it extends further than the training stable and the race track. It was announced today that he has given $15,000 to the American Museum of Natural History to be applied to the fund for searches for fossil remains of the horse.

Hohenzollern Tars Enjoy Themselves.

There was a merry crowd at the Irving Place theater tonight. A number of officers of the Hohenzollern visited that temple of German dramatic art and Herr Conreid was full of hospitality and bustle. The officers of the kaiser's yacht are out for a good time and some of them may be met at almost any time of the afternoon and evening in the corridor of the Waldorf, at one of the theaters, or strolling in Broadway. While they like stage performances in their own tongue, they thoroughly understand the universal language of feminine beauty and they are going the round of the musical comedies and comic operas, eyeing the "show girls" in those entertainments with a critical approval that may mean the loss of a Teutonic heart or two before the yacht sails away from New York harbor.

Prince Henry to Visit School.

Among the entertainments arranged for Prince Henry in New York is a visit to a typical American public school. The school selected is No. 665, in West 160th street, in happy Harlem. The pupils will recite and sing, go through exercises in the gymnasium and show him what they have accomplished as wood-carvers. Prince Henry, like his brother, the kaiser, is deeply interested in educational work of all kinds and he has expressed a great desire to inspect an American school at close range.

Calve's Wondrous Bracelet.

Calve, the opera singer, has shown New Yorkers something new in jewelry. She wears it in "Mefistofine" and it is safe to say that every woman in the house is paying as much attention to the mass of gleaming gold and gems on her left hand as to the music that issues from her lips. The jewelry is a bracelet of turquoise linked by delicate gold chains to turquoise rings, one on each finger, with a separate circlet from the thumb. Each ring is set with an immense turquoise, that in the center covering the entire space between the knuckles. The harness is very heavy. In fact, one wonders how the diva contrives to wave her hand with such freedom and grace. She does it, however, and the effect of the glinting jewels as she swings her hand in the glow of the red and green border lights is inexpressibly beautiful. Calve has several sets of this harness jewelry. She seldom wears them except upon the stage; but whenever the part she has permits the display of costly gems, then the harness is sure to be in evidence.

Hello Girls' Own Ball.

The telephone girls of New York are dancing tonight—that is, many of them are. Some 200 of them are giving a ball in Sangerbund hall, Brooklyn, in honor of the Relay Social club, whatever that may be. The point is that if New Yorkers do not get their numbers tomorrow as promptly as they desire, they must lay it to the ball and the fatigue of the fair operator, who may not have been to bed at all.

PERSONALS.

"The horses of Missouri mules and Kentucky horses," said H. H. Brittan, of New Orleans at the Hotel Duquesne, "are achieving on the plains of South Africa. For the past two years shipments of them have been very large, but the resources of these states in horseflesh are, I think, very nearly ended. As to the Mardi Gras, it was the greatest in the history of New Orleans. From all over the country visitors were present and the reception of King Rex has never been exceeded. The two days' celebration cost the people of New Orleans over $100,000, and floats were in the parade that cost individuals from $25,000 to $30,000 each. The identity of the king of the carnival is held sacred until this arrival in the city and he is received by the city authorities. He is always a married man and one of the largest contributors to the fund. Sometimes he is a planter, but more often one of the leading business men."

William Stridiron, manager of Berry Bros., varnish manufacturers, of Detroit, is stopping at the Monongahela house. Mr. Stridiron told some interesting things about flaxseed and why it is not used for linen in this country. "The bulk of the flax," said Mr. Stridiron, "is now grown in the Dakotas. It is mostly used in making ropes, the price of making linen being too high. Linen can be made cheaper in Belfast, Ireland, than in this country. Millions of bushels of the seed are compressed into cakes, the oil of which is used in the manufacture of varnish. Flaxseed meal is a staple article of commerce and the flaxseed cake is sold to stock breeders, it being an excellent food for cattle."

J. J. Irvin, an oil man of West Virginia, is at the Victoria. "There are not very many oil properties in the market at present," he remarked. "Producers are holding their output at higher prices than purchasers will pay. The producing territory has been drilled over until salt water cannot be gotten and no new productions are in sight. In the past year there has not been a new oil field of any account found in Pennsylvania, Ohio, or West Virginia. In some parts of West Virginia a few gas wells have been drilled in, but none of them are the equal of the gas wells of Pennsylvania of former years."

J. Chauvin, a merchant of Butte, Mont., is a guest at the Henry. "The recent slump in Amalgamated Copper," said Mr. Chauvin, "hit us hard. Never in the history of mining has the state seen such stringency as since the closing down of the Amalgamated copper mines. Just before the slump the Amalgamated Company had 25,000,000 pounds of copper at Great Falls. The slump put 4,000 men out of work, as the mines were closed. Many of the mines are now being opened. The state will produce $65,000,000 this year in silver, gold and copper."

The Grove City College Alumni association of Pittsburgh held its fifth banquet at the Hotel Henry last night. The function was largely attended, 75 plates being spread. T. G. Vogan was toastmaster and addresses were made by the Rev. H. B. Hunnell, the Rev. J. M. Ward, Dr. William Currey, S. S. Mehard and Dr. I. C. Keller, president of the college. The officers of the association are: President, T. G. Vogan; secretary, W. F. Fleming, and treasurer, W. M. McJunkin.

Davis propose to give $50,000 in cash and a site upon which to erect the building, on condition that the presbytery raise $50,000 additional. The presbytery assessed Randolph county $5,000, $1,000 of which has been raised by the county at large and the remaining $7,000 by the town of Elkins. CATHEDRAL OF ANTWERP.

Magnificent Building and Famous Paintings to be Seen by Teachers Who Tour Europe as Guests of Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph.

CLOSING THIRD SERIES IN THE VOTING CONTEST

Ballots of Series B Must Be Sent in Before Tomorrow or Be Lost.

CATHEDRAL OF ANTWERP

Great Church Began in Fourteenth Century Contains Masterpiece of Rubens—Other Places of Interest in the Principal Port of Belgium.

With today Series C in the voting contest for the teachers' tour of Europe will close. The last ballot will be printed in The Chronicle Telegraph this evening and the first of Series D will appear in The Sunday Gazette tomorrow, along with an entertaining a Sunday paper as ever was printed in this state. The Sunday Gazette good paintings by well-known artists in the edifice which are shown to visitors free on some days and others for a very small fee.

Many of the European churches derive their principal income from the exhibition of their treasures, and some of the best and most famous paintings in the world are to be found in the churches. The Church of St. Jacques, built near the end of the fifteenth century, contains the tomb of Rubens and many of his pictures, which are on show for a fee. It is not far from the cathedral and one of Antwerp's many interesting places. This Belgian port is, altogether, a very interesting city.

Antwerp's Varying Fortunes.

Antwerp is on the route of the teachers' tour of Europe offered by The Pittsburgh Gazette and The Chronicle Telegraph. It will be visited just after the party leaves London, and will afford a pleasant contrast to the great English city. It is the principal port of entry for Belgium and has experienced marvelous changes in the sixteenth century it was one of the large cities of Europe, having a population of about 200,000. In 1790 it had been reduced to about 40,000, the Napoleonic wars being no small factor in its adversity. At present it has a population of fully 250,000 and is prosperous.

It is such places as this that the teachers who are successful in the voting contest of The Pittsburgh Gazette and The Chronicle Telegraph will be given an opportunity to study, under the liberal arrangements of these papers. That is why this tour is much more attractive than any other ever offered by any newspaper. It is intelligently planned for the diversion and edification of intelligent, educated people.

Rules to Be Observed.

Ballots must be voted in series; those of one series must be deposited before midnight of the day the succeeding series closes. They must be filled out legibly, with full name of teacher, school where employed, town and county. They should be kept in good condition and sent in flat, not folded or crumbled. If torn or mutilated they will not be counted.

The tour will be of more than six weeks' duration. Starts at Pittsburgh July 3; leaves New York July 5, S. S. Atlantic; reports line steamer; arrives London July 13; Antwerp, July 19; Brussels, July 20; Amsterdam, July 22; Cologne, July 24; Mayence, July 25; Heidelberg, July 26; Lucerne, July 28; The Rigi, July 29; Interlaken, July 30; Paris, August 1, London, August 6; Highlands, August 8; Glasgow, August 8; leaves Glasgow by Anchor Line steamer Columbus, August 9; expect to arrive in New York August 17.

Who Will Be Taken.

The party will be composed of 25 teachers of the public schools, i. e., persons engaged in teaching in schools supported by public funds. These will be apportioned as follows: Twelve from the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, six from Allegheny county outside the two cities, and seven from those parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia outside of Allegheny county, but within the territory covered by the daily deliveries of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. They will be elected by the readers of these papers. Those having the largest votes in their respective divisions will be declared elected.

All expenses of the tour will be borne by The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph, and those papers will give each member of the party $50 in cash to gratify individual tastes. Representatives of the papers will accompany the party to arrange routes and look after the comfort of the guests.

The contest will close May 31, and the result will be announced as soon after that of the votes can be possible. Ballots from The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will count one vote each, and those from The Sunday Gazette will count for three votes each. The ballots will be found at the top of the second page in each issue, and attention is directed to the terms and conditions printed thereon. This whole ballot, including border, must be sent in.

Vote to send the Stone machine to the scrap heap.

FUNDS ARE NEEDED TO PURCHASE A FARM

Managers of Boys' Industrial Home Ask for $10,000 to Give Employment to Waifs.

The board of managers of the Boys' Industrial home at Oakdale has issued a special appeal asking for $10,000. Lawrence C. Phipps has given $500, and another prominent Pittsburgher, who does not wish his name made public, has also given the same amount.

The Boys' Industrial home is the only institution of its kind in Western Pennsylvania under Protestant auspices. It is wholly non-sectarian. The home was started in Allegheny in a building entirely unfit, but from the very start was filled with little homeless wanderers. Some months ago the managers asked the public to indorse the movement by giving $5,000 to purchase a permanent home.

Up to this time the public was uninformed of the work, there having only been small notices in the newspapers. As soon as the public became aware of the nature of the work the money asked for was subscribed, the home was bought, and the boys moved there. So far so good, but employment must be furnished the boys for the good of the home and the individual good of the boys.

The managers, some of the leading business men of the two cities, want to not only furnish employment, but make the home self-sustaining as far as possible. To do this they propose to purchase a farm near the home, provide the necessary equipments and meet current expenses. For this $10,000 is at once needed. Checks can be sent to Charles F. Dean, treasurer, at the Union National bank.

WORK IS BEGUN ON COAL FIELDS OF CORPORATION

National Mining Company Starts Operations on 8,000 Acres of Land.

MEN ALREADY AT WORK

Contracts Let for Complete Equipment of First Plant, Including Most Modern Machinery and Homes for Men—Work Will Cost $150,000.

The United States Steel Corporation, through its subsidiary company, the National Mining Company, has arranged for its first coal mining operations in the Pittsburgh district. The National Mining Company has let all the contracts for the equipment and opening of its first mining plant in the Pittsburgh district, 14 miles from the city, on the Bridgeville & McDonald branch of the Panhandle railroad. This mining property, which aggregates 8,000 acres, is sandwiched between operations of the Pittsburgh Coal Company. Plans for the plant were made by F. A. McDonald, chief engineer of the National Mining Company.

A force of men has been put at work to make the excavations for the slopes and shafts of the initial plant. This plant will embody all of the modern improvements in coal mining. It will develop about 1,800 acres of the body of coal, and the output after operations have started will be nearly 3,000 tons a day. About 450 miners will be employed.

Men Already at Work.

Thomas Prosser of Carnegie has put a force of men at work on the necessary excavations for the slopes and shafts. This contractor will also put in all the masonry lining necessary. The shaft will be for the air transmitting appliances, the coal and operating facilities being through the slope openings. The coal is about 35 feet below the surface.

At Sygan, 14 miles from Pittsburgh, 100 dwellings for the miners will be erected. The machinery for the modern mining plant to be installed will be in place about next September, but it is expected to consume practically all of the present year in putting the plant in readiness for operation. Production of the fine Panhandle coal, from the 5-foot vein of gas and steam coal will start near the coming in of the year 1903.

First Opening in Fayette Township.

The coal to be first opened lies in South Fayette township, Allegheny county, the entire tract of 8,000 acres extending into Chartiers and Cecil townships, Washington county. Railroad sidings from the Panhandle to the mine tipple will be erected by Rodgers & Abel of Pittsburgh, which firm will also erect the foundations for all the surface plants. All of the steel superstructures, including the steel tipple, will be erected by the American Bridge Company. This includes two short bridges, necessary in the construction of the railway connection.

William Clifford of Jeannette will install a 16-foot Cappell ventilating fan. The mine buildings and miners' houses will be erected by George C. Anderson & Sons of Latrobe, Pa. This contract includes the power house, blacksmith shop and stables of brick construction.

Investment of $150,000.

The Sterling Company of Schnectady, N. Y., will supply three 200 horse power boilers. The Buckeye Engine Company of Akron, O., will install two 300 horse power engines. Two generators of 200 Kilo Watts each will be installed by the Crocker-Wheeler Company of Ampere, N. J. The mine screens will be supplied by the Phillips Mine and Mill Supply Company of Pittsburgh.

A complete hoisting plant will be erected by the Link Belt Engineering Company of New York, Philadelphia and Chicago. Erection of the entire plant will cost upward of $150,000.

This plant will only provide for the development of about a fourth of the coal owned by the National Mining Company, of which Thomas Lynch, head of the coking operations of the steel corporation, is president. Arrangements for further development are expected to follow shortly.

COL. LINDSAY STUMPED.

Man Wanted to Make Affidavit to a Tree Claim in South Dakota.

William T. Linden, clerk of the United States district court, who is usually prepared for any and all questions pertaining to the duties of his office, was rather disconcerted yesterday when a man entered his office and asked him if he would take his acknowledgement to a paper in proof of a tree claim upon some land in South Dakota.

Col. Lindsay said that he had heard of tree claims, but he was compelled to admit that he had never had any before him and that he would have to depend upon the applicant to furnish the proper affidavit. The applicant, who did not give his name, smiled and said that he did not know much about it, either, and that he would send to South Dakota for the proper blanks. He said that he had "proved up" on a tree claim for 160 acres in Dakota, however, and that he wanted to make affidavit to the fact, as is required by the government. Col. Lindsay is now reading up the United States laws on tree claims pending the arrival of the blanks.

Rock-a-Bye Baby

These are sweet words, but how much pain and suffering they used to mean. It's different now. Since Mother's Friend has become known expectant mothers have been spared much of the anguish of childbirth. Mother's Friend is a Liniment to be applied externally. It is rubbed thoroughly into the muscles of the abdomen. It gives elasticity and strength, and when the final great strain comes they respond quickly and easily without pain. Mother's Friend is never taken internally. Internal remedies at this time do more harm than good. If a woman is supplied with this splendid liniment she need never fear rising or swelling breasts, morning sickness, or any of the discomforts which usually accompany pregnancy.

The proprietor of a large hotel in Tampa, Fla., writes: "My wife had an awful time with her first child. During her second pregnancy, Mother's Friend was used and the baby was born easily before the doctor arrived. It's certainly great."

R·I·PA·N·S

I had been suffering from dizzy spells about two years. Everything before my eyes seemed clouded and at last I took blinding spells, which would last about five minutes, and after the spell was over I would get a headache which would last for the rest of the day. A young man who had been suffering with almost the same ailment as mine took Ripans Tabules when a spell would come on and they would relieve him. I bought a box and found them to give me so much relief that now I always carry them about with me.

NO ANSWER FOR A WEEK.

Counsel for Defendants in New York & Cleveland Gas Coal Company Litigation Preparing Denial.

William Scott of Dalzell, Scott & Gordon and Sol Schoyer, Jr., have been retained as counsel in the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal Company litigation, the bill in equity in which was filed in common pleas court No. 1 January 18. The attorneys expect to have their answer ready in a week or ten days. In relation to the answer, W. P. De Armit, the leading defendant in the case, yesterday referred to his attorneys. The attorneys intimated that the answer will be a sweeping denial of all allegations. Mr. Schoyer said:

"There is little that I can say about the case now except that the bill states a great many things which had best not be said. The answer, the compilation of which Mr. Scott has charge, will be ready in a short time and will outline the defense from Mr. De Armit, John Walker, Frank Semple and William H. Berger, trustees for the defendants."

The Pittsburgh Coal Company which holds the control in the New York & Cleveland company, makes all the old stockholders of the latter company defendants. Nearly $800,000 is involved in the dispute, the plaintiff asserting that some such amount has been withheld from it.

A TREASON RIDER.

Senator Hoar Tries to Tack It Upon Philippine Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.—A little flurry was created in the senate today over the employment since the beginning of the session of a score or more of extra clerks and messengers to committees. The charges of extravagance made induced the reference of the whole subject of clerical employment to a committee for investigation and report.

The bill creating a permanent census office was under consideration for a time, but was not disposed of finally. After the passage of a large number of private pension bills the senate eulogized the life and character of the late Representative Brosius of Pennsylvania.

Senator Hoar today offered the following amendment to the Philippine tariff bill:

"No person in the Philippine islands shall, under the authority of the United States, be convicted of treason by any tribunal, civil or military, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court."

Gray Hair

Ayer's Hair Vigor doesn't suddenly restore color to your gray hair; but gradually the old color comes back—all the dark, rich color it used to have. It stops falling of the hair, too, and will often make the hair grow to be very long and heavy.

Hay's HAIR-HEALTH

Read what Czarina, Queen of Dancers, says of Hay's Hair-Health and how heartily she recommends it; then read what it has done for countless thousands and can do for you without even the knowledge of your nearest or dearest friends.

New York, Oct. 11, 1901.

Messrs. Philo Hay Specialties Co., 231 Lafayette St., Newark, N. J.

Gentlemen:—I feel that I must write and tell you how much good Hay's Hair-Health has done my hair. Almost from the first application I could see a wonderful change for the better, and now it is long, luxuriant, wavy and of that beautiful consistency that perfect condition alone imparts. I notice particularly that after an application of Hay's Hair-Health my hair, no matter how vigorously I dance, is disposed to remain in any desired position.

I heartily recommend to my many friends and professional sisters Hay's Hair-Health. Yours very truly, CZARINA.

CZARINA.

Thousands of men and women to-day owe their youthful appearance and the absence of gray in their hair to that meritorious preparation, HAY'S HAIR-HEALTH, of which millions of bottles have proven to be the fountain of youth. Notice how graceful men and women grow old nowadays.

Do you know why?

On the very first appearance of gray hair they make an occasional application of HAY'S HAIR-HEALTH, and even though the hair may have become gray or white, no one is the wiser, for "H. H. H." constantly covers up the tracks of time, and even to ripe old age the hair remains thick, glossy, of youthful luxuriance, and the actual natural color of early days. This is no theory; it is an actual fact, proven day after day, after many years of success.

HAY'S HAIR-HEALTH is a preparation pure and pleasant to use, delightfully perfumed and has cured more bald heads than all the other preparations on earth combined. It heals the scalp, cleans out all dandruff, goes deep down to the hair roots and invigorates and strengthens them, as the rain the plants. That's what HAY'S HAIR-HEALTH does and why thousands write and say, "It is a boon from Heaven."

How many women and men suffer from falling hair and know not the cause or the remedy? HAY'S HAIR-HEALTH will stop it at once and cause the hair to grow forth luxuriant and beautiful.

Every bottle is warranted to quickly restore gray, white, faded or bleached hair to youthful color and consistency without staining the skin or linen, and that guarantee is freely made to all who purchase and use HAY'S HAIR-HEALTH, because its success is never-failing.

To keep the hair, scalp and beard in healthy condition, make a strong lather with HARFINA SOAP and shampoo freely. If it is desired to restore gray hair to youthful color apply HAY'S HAIR-HEALTH after shampooing with HARFINA SOAP; the grayness will disappear and the hair will grow forth in its original color.

HAY'S HAIR-HEALTH and HARFINA SOAP Cure Mr. Hyde a Fine Head of Hair.

Philo Hay Specialties Co., Sept. 16, 1901:

I am working at a business which compels me to wash my head thoroughly every day, and this nearly destroyed my hair. I began using Hay's Hair-Health after trying everything else on the market, and found that it soon stopped the hair from falling out, turned it from gray back to its youthful color and completely cured the dandruff trouble, and the baldness is disappearing. I would not use any other hair dressing under any consideration. F. H. HYDE, Youngstown, Ohio.

Swimmers Threaten to Shatter Pittsburgh Remnants of A. A. U.

SULLIVAN WRITES NOTES

Metropolitan Nabob Is Astonished and Thinks Men Who Played for H. L. A. C. Should Be Suspended. Charges May Be Made.

Behind the preferring of charges against the Knickerbocker A. C. swimmers, who helped H. L. A. C. to defeat Duquesne, there is that which threatens to disrupt the whole status of what remains of the A. A. U. in Pittsburgh and disclose in the strong light of professionalism local swimmers, who have been peacefully resting in the subdued shade of a rather indefinite amateurism.

The whole of the Duquesne movement is not revealed by the protest against the New York swimmers, for it all tends towards trouble for the entire H. L. A. C. Duquesne swimmers claim that though they were forced at the water side to play what was termed an exhibition game the contest was originally arranged for the championship of Western Pennsylvania. Under the agreement Homestead was to play the same team at Chicago which was played against Duquesne. Duquesne was defeated by a score of 3 to 0, but a different team has been played at Chicago.

Now Wants to Play for Cash.

A Duquesne swimmer was authority for the statement yesterday that the D. C. & A. C. team, which was defeated at Homestead, stood ready to play the second return game against the lineup played at Chicago and would in addition make a side bet of $500. The Homestead lineup announced from Chicago is as follows: Dailey, center; McGaw, right forward; Bosler, left forward; Webb, right back; Kelly, left back, and Stevenson, goal.

The Duquesne swimmers announce that they will push the charges against the Knickerbocker A. C. men and all concerned, to a finish, and a letter has been sent to J. W. Kelly, secretary of the Atlantic association, stating the case in full. The Knickerbocker men, L. A. Goodwin and L. DeB. Handley and Don Reeder unattached, have none of them played for Homestead at Chicago, on account, it is claimed, not of the Duquesne charges, but on the protest of the Homestead team by the Illinois Naval Reserve team. It is therefore claimed that all teams which competed against Homestead at Chicago can be held accountable by the A. A. U.

Ready to Become Professionals.

The Duquesne men stand ready to suffer themselves by playing against Homestead, and it is asserted, will make a bona fide side bet of $500. Some of the Duquesne swimmers say they do not care whether they are ranked as professionals or not, as long as they get satisfaction from Homestead.

In the letter of charges sent to J. E. Sullivan of the Metropolitan A. C. Goodwin and Reeder were protested on the grounds of competing for a club in another district than their own, strictly forbidden by the A. A. U. rules. Also it is claimed that none of the Homestead swimmers could show registration cards though it had been demanded that Duquesne have them. Sullivan in a letter answering the Duquesne charges, says: "I must say I am astonished and it is my personal opinion that the Knickerbocker men should be suspended at once. Of course the Metropolitan association can not act in this case. It is out of its jurisdiction. I recommend that you write a very strong letter stating the case to Mr. J. W. Kelly, Jr., and Atlantic association will act."

Say It Was an Exhibition.

As far as the H. L. A. C. is concerned it stands on the ground that the game was played as an exhibition contest, and that players from another district could thus compete.

The Homestead team at Chicago, though deprived of the star New Yorkers, won two games from Armour Institute and one from All-Chicago, being awarded second honors. In a very rough game with the Illinois Naval Reserves, who won the interstate championship, Homestead was defeated 8 to 1, playing with but three players part of the time.

M'GOVERN SHOWS OLD TIME FORM

BROOKLYN BOY NEARLY PUT HIS SPARRING PARTNER OUT.

Frank Hennecke Was So Badly Punished in Four Rounds That He Was Almost on Queer Street—Terry Is Now Down to Weight.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 14.—Terry McGovern went through his usual course of training today, consisting of a run of several miles over the Oakley track and some road work in the morning, while in the afternoon he went against his new sparring partner, Frank Henneke, for four rounds.

Henneke was not in very good condition and McGovern all but had him out at the end of the fourth round. In fact, in the fourth he had to avoid hitting him hard, on account of Henneke's groggy condition. Terry's trainer says Henneke will not do for Terry to finish training with, as he has to have someone who is in good condition and can make it lively for him. Joe Humphries is looking around for someone to help out, but no local talent seems available at present.

Terry is now in the best of condition and is already down to weight. His wind is good and his muscles hard, and his friends say that he will be in better condition when he faces Sullivan in the ring than he has ever been in any of his other battles.

A friend of McGovern's received a letter from Louisville today which says that Dave Sullivan has stated that he intends to give a dinner after he has mopped up the floor with McGovern. Terry said, when he heard of it: "Well, if he beats me, and I give him a chance to have that dinner, you can look for Mayhood and me back in the lumber yard, where I started."

WAS A WARM BATTLE.

High School Won From Allegheny. It Took Lively Work to Secure the Victory.

Yesterday afternoon at High school chapel the High school basketball team played Allegheny Preparatory school, the second in the league series of games. Allegheny had improved very greatly in their play since their last game, and for a time the game was nip and tuck. The first half ended 22 to 12 in High school's favor but with the beginning of the second half, the Allegheny boys commenced playing desperately.

At one time the score was run up to 27 to 22 and the excitement was intense. Under the cold and untimely efforts of the High school enthusiasts, the team woke up, and almost snowed the visitors under. They ran up a score of 21 to 11 in the last 10 minutes of the game, making a final score of 48 to 23. The all around work of the Allegheny Prep. team was fast and greatly improved since the start of the league season. Whilock at center and Knox were specially good. The whole High school team did fair work. Morgan and Steen were good. High school will play Shadyside academy next Tuesday at Shadyside's gymnasium. Allegheny will play Shadyside next Friday at the Allegheny gymnasium. Score and lineup:

WAS CLEAN AND FAST.

South Side Cleverly Won From Sewickley.

A clever game of basketball was played at Sewickley last night between the Sewickley Y. M. C. A. team and South Side, the latter winning by a score of 25 to 15. The game was contested from start to finish, but South Side got a big lead before the game was very far advanced which the Sewickley players failed to overcome, although in the second half they played very fast. The game was one of the most exciting and exciting that has been played in Sewickley for some time, and a big crowd was present, including many South Side rooters. The throwing from foul of Dillhoff was one of the features of the game. Winderknecht and Schmidt also played a good game for South Side, while Malterer, Challis and White carried off the honors for Sewickley. Both teams displayed good team work. The lineup follows:

Sewickley—18.		South Side—25.
Malterer	R. F.	Schmidt
McElwain	L. F.	O. Stilhead
Edwards	C.	Davies
Challis	R. G.	Winderknecht

There will be two games of basketball in the H. L. A. C. gymnasium tonight, when D. C. & A. C. and Ohio's champion Steubenville team meet. There will also be a game between Carnegie Steel and Homestead. Steubenville won 29 out of 32 games played so far this season, and as they have been at Homestead since Thursday practicing for this game with the local champions, they should be in fine form. Steubenville will have a trainload of their loyal supporters to cheer them on in their efforts to wrest the championship from D. C. & A. C. Lineup:

Clarence Preston Won the Two-Mile Skating Race.

Clarence Preston ably defended his title of amateur speed champion of Western Pennsylvania last night at Duquesne Garden, winning the gold medal in the final of the two-mile event in easy manner, the time being 6:26. The silver medal, for second place, went to Lawrence Bright, and the bronze medal, for third place, to Arch Williams. The latter was held out of a much probable second place by a collision with Hasley.

George Wherle, who came in fourth, took the pace for 14 laps and won applause for his speedy work. Preston here took the lead and was never headed, winning by 60 feet. Tomlet John Nilsson will go against the world's indoor record for the mile.

In the afternoon Meson won from Berger, Gunsberg from Marshall and Wolf from Marco. Marocsy and Teichmann and Schreve and Tarrasch adjourned their respective games. Marocsy and Tarrasch, however, had the better positions.

RIVER INTERESTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 14.—River stands 11.8 feet and falling. Weather fair and cold. The ice continues to grow heavier and with continued cold weather, the river will be closed. When the thaws come, high water can be looked for, as the snow above and the shore ice are very heavy. A number of the crews of the boats in the ice harbors at points below passed through the city today on their way to Pittsburgh. Capt. W. L. Sibert of the government engineer's office, has sent out specifications for plans for a complete dredging outfit to be used on the Ohio river. The work will go to the lowest bidder. The verdict in the case of Sidney Cole, who was found guilty of murder in the second degree for the killing of Capt. Perry Hostetter on the steamer Keystone State, was a source of satisfaction to the rivermen at this point, as they claim it will settle a much mooted point in law and will act as a warning to those who, in the past, have been a menace to the river interests.

LOUISVILLE—River falling with 6.2 feet in the canal, 4 feet on the falls and 10.8 feet at the foot of the locks. Weather cloudy and cold. The ice is harder in quality and heavier in quantity than it was yesterday and is accumulating in the harbor opposite the wharf. It is passing over the falls freely through the Kentucky river and Indiana chutes and gorges are likely to form. A heavy snow is predicted within the next 24 hours. City No. 2 City No. 3, Pittsburgh, Falls City, C. B. Pearson, Tarascon, Tell City, Sunshine, Columbia, John Moren, Iron Age, City of Pittsburgh, Fred Wilson, Belvidere, Capitolcts, Legal Maxim, Government, steamboats and 110 barges are laid up in the canal.

CAIRO—Gauge reads 22.3 feet, a fall of 3 feet in 24 hours. Shoving and cold. The Price arrived with a tow of logs from below. The Ferd Herold arrived from Memphis. The John K. sped cleared for New Orleans this afternoon. She was unable to get below last night to handle her freight on account of the snow. Pilot Lee Gordon came up from Memphis on the Herold today. John Case of the coal combine at Pittsburgh is in the city.

MEMPHIS—The river stands 22.2 feet on gauge, a fall of 1.7 feet in 24 hours. The James Lee departed for Friars Point; the Sarah Lee for Arkansas City and the Alaska for Fulton. The Delta arrived from Vicksburg. Heavy rains with sleet and snow.

NO CAUSE ASSIGNED.

Captain of the Jones Does Not Know What Caused Boat to Sink.

Capt. E. M. Rodgers, master of the towboat Harry D. Jones, yesterday made his report of the sinking of that steamer to Capts. George H. Atkinson and James McWilliams, the local steamboat inspectors. Capt. Rodgers stated that he was asleep through the hold of the boat about 12 hours previous to the accident and had looked down the hatchway some time afterward and found everything all right.

He was asleep when the accident occurred and when awakened had to hustle to save his life. He said that he could not assign a reason for the boat sinking; that this could not be determined until the boat was raised and an examination made of her hull. It is presumed that the ice tore open the boat's timbers, which caused her to settle. The boat had been leaking a short time previous to the accident, the ice having torn out the calkum between the crevasses of her timbers.

News of the Rivers.

The stage of water at Davis island dam at 5 o'clock last night was 4 feet and falling.

Capt. Addison Lysle is on his way to Mexico, where he is interested in oil territory.

The towing raised the Cheida but lost her and sliced in sank. Another effort will be made to get her afloat as that she can be taken to the Parkersburg docks.

The Mississippi river at St. Louis remains closed and there is said to be little ice in the river at Cairo. The towboat Oakland will not have any ice to contend with from Evansville south.

Capt. Mart Sebold will look after the making up of the coal tows of the coal combination that are sent south from Louisville during the absence of Capt. Samuel S. Brown in Europe.

Capt. James A. Henderson passed the half century mark yesterday and said that he felt just as young as he did 25 years ago. His friends told him that he does not look any older than he did 15 years ago.

The towboat Hawk sank yesterday while being raised in the Monongahela river and attention will now be devoted to gathering from the wreck all material that can be used in the construction of some other towboat.

Capt. Edward Howard, the steamboat builder, is erecting a fine office at his yards in Jeffersonville. It will be a model of the style of the finest steamboat cabins afloat. Capt. Howard now owns a beautiful residence in Southern Indiana, and has an estate near his shipyard and he will soon have the finest office in the west or south in which to receive his steamboat friends.

GROWING TOWNS ASK UNCLE SAM FOR BUILDINGS

Johnstown and Lebanon Heard by Committee, and McKeesport Next.

NEW CASTLE IS IN LUCK

Wheeling and West Chester Likely to Get What They Ask—Wonderful Rise of the Flood City from Its Ruins Depicted by Speakers.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
905 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.

This might have been designated Pennsylvania day by the house committee on public buildings and grounds, as delegations from two of the third-class cities appeared before it. Both delegations were accorded respectful hearings, and later on the committee will decide whether or not to grant the desired buildings.

Representative Evans presented a large delegation of citizens from Johnstown, headed by Judge O'Conner and including such prominent men as H. S. Ensley, H. W. Story, James M. Walters, John M. Rose, H. E. Banner, J. B. Denny and Anderson Walters. The speakers sketched the wonderful progress made by Johnstown. Less than 18 years ago it had been virtually wiped out by flood; but like the phoenix Johnstown rose and is now one of the foremost of the third-class cities in the state.

According to the census of 1900 the city has a population of 36,000 and a suburban population of 14,000 more, making 50,000 people who receive their mail through the Johnstown postoffice. If the ratio of progress since the flood is continued there will be a population of 100,000 in Johnstown before the next census, and it will become a city of the second class. The government now pays enough money for rent for buildings in Johnstown to more than pay the interest on the money that the delegation desires invested in a federal building.

It was the opinion of the delegation that a satisfactory building could be erected for about $125,000, including cost of site.

Representative Acheson arranged that on February 28 a hearing be given to McKeesport citizens to urge a much needed federal building for that city.

An unusually large delegation from Lebanon was presented by Representative Olmsted, and the committee was soon put in possession of the facts that in the minds of the delegation entitled their city to a federal building to cost $100,000, including site.

So far the committee on public buildings and grounds has not acted on bills for local buildings. Representative Showalter is the Pennsylvania member of the committee, and his wishes would be regarded in the selection of the towns to be given public buildings. It seems certain that the committee will report favorably on the bill for the $125,000 building at New Castle, a $200,000 building at West Chester and a $400,000 building at Wheeling. These bills have all passed the senate, and need only favorable action in the house to become laws.

SOUTHERNER HAD VOTES.

Bear Representative Dalzell on a Pension Motion, but Pittsburgher May Have Last Laugh.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—Representative Dalzell introduced into the house a bill to pension William B. Hotham of Pittsburgh at $12 a month; also a bill to correct the military record of James Charles Cramer of Pittsburgh.

Representative Acheson introduced a bill to pension George W. Henderson at $30 a month.

While the house was in committee of the whole today Mr. Dalzell made a strong argument on the bill to grant a pension to Henry Burns of Pittsburgh. Mr. Dalzell, when he introduced the bill, asked for a pension of $72 a month, as Burns is blind, destitute and totally helpless. The pension committee reduced the amount to $40 per month, but in the house today Mr. Dalzell endeavored to have it increased to $50 a month.

Representative Talbert of South Carolina vigorously opposed Mr. Dalzell's motion. The friends of the old soldiers rallied behind Mr. Dalzell, but on the test vote there were seven more votes behind Mr. Talbert than there were behind Mr. Dalzell, and the motion was lost, the vote being 47 to 40. The bill was then laid aside but was passed later in the day.

Mr. Dalzell immediately went to the senate and arranged with Senator Penrose to have the pension of Mr. Burns increased from $40 to $50 a month when the bill reaches the senate.

The following pensions were granted today:

ROOSEVELT HAS REACHED A SCHLEY CASE DECISION

The President Reads Part of the Paper to His Cabinet, But It Is Still Subject to Alterations.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.—One of the subjects discussed at the cabinet meeting today was the reply which the president will make to the appeal of Admiral Schley. The president has given a good deal of attention to the matter and it is understood that in the course of a few days, probably by the middle of next week, he will be ready to announce his conclusions.

Members of the cabinet are reticent as to what the president's views are, beyond the statement that his decision is undoubtedly will clear the atmosphere somewhat on many of the involved questions.

The president outlined his views on the Schley case by reading the first draft of his decision. Some modifications were made in it today, and in view of the fact that it is subject to further and possibly important changes in text members of the cabinet back their indisposition to discuss it by the assertion that it is unsafe at this time to predict what the effect will be. It is a long document, and one of its features is the clear presentation of the facts regarding the Santiago fight as given the president by the admiral engaged in that battle, who recently were summoned to the White House to confer with him.

The decision is couched in the president's characteristic vigorous tone.

Vote against the conversion of the filtration scheme into a ten-million dollar job.

TONSILINE CURES SORE THROAT.

Stomach Trouble, Not Heart Disease.

The many symptoms resulting from stomach trouble frequently cause alarm to patients, as they simulate at times the symptoms arising from heart trouble. When the stomach is abnormally distended with gas, arising from stomach troubles, it encroaches upon the heart and lungs, producing palpitation of fluttering of the heart, smothering sensations, shortness of breath, dizziness, cold hands and feet, and in consequence of the debilitated condition of the body, due to malassimilation, a long line of nervous troubles, such as an all-gone feeling, trembling of hands and limbs, hot and cold flashes, despondency, poor memory, loss of energy, etc. A physician versed in pathological anatomy knows that these symptoms are only functional or sympathetic, and that treatment must be directed to the stomach and not to the heart for nervous symptoms.

Are you buying patent medicines, digestive tablets, swallowing baking soda, charcoal, pepsin, mint and other irritating talents in vain efforts to obtain relief?

Are you willing to investigate a treatment that really cures this trouble, not merely relieves the distressing symptoms for an hour or so, but cures to stay cured?

The treatment devised by Dr. Byers, and used in this practice over 14 years has for its purpose the cleansing and healing of the catarrhal conditions of the head and throat and preventing passage of poisonous mucus into the stomach, it works as a restoration of the normal condition and functions of the stomach.

The many cures resulting from his method of treatment verify the claim that it is the only treatment that will cure serious stom

IRON LEADERS AGAINST RAISE OF QUOTATIONS

The Companies That So Express Themselves Control the Situation.

MINORITY IS SMALL FRY

Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, Which Rules the Southern Situation, for the Conservative Policy. No Great Import Movement.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—A careful canvass was made today of the controlling interests in the pig iron situation with a view to getting their sense of opinion as to the expediency of advancing prices. Their unanimous expression was against a further rise in pig iron quotations, notwithstanding the slender stocks now currently available. This statement is given in behalf of the several manufacturers who collectively produce enough pig iron to give them absolute control of the situation. They base their opposition to higher quotations on the theory that further advances would jeopardize the best ends of the industry.

There is no doubt, however, that the opportunity exists for tilting prices to a considerably higher level. Stocks are at a very low point, and the demand is remarkably urgent. It is true that some producers of pig iron insist that the market should be given freer rein, and that prices should be permitted to reach a level which they deem to be justified by the current demand. These advocates of higher prices, however, are in the minority, and any attempt they may make to advance quotations will be strongly resisted by the majority, whose views are expressed above. At least this is the mental attitude of controlling interests at this time.

Tennessee Against Higher Prices.

A representative of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company said today that his company would withhold its sanction from any effort on the part of southern producers to advance prices. This company has a majority of votes in the southern situation. Furnaces in that region are sold several months ahead, and it is said that some producers will be able to fill reasonable demands for immediate delivery of certain grades of iron.

It was reported in Wall street today that inquiry had been made at Glasgow in regard to exports of Scotch pig to this country. Glasgow correspondents cabled back that Scotch ironmasters regard this as an indication of an iron famine in the United States. When this was called to the attention of several pig iron interests one of them remarked:

"Pig iron prices of this country and Europe are now about at a parity, when duty and cost of transportation are considered. By this I mean that certain classes of foreign iron could now be sold here in competition with the American product. I have no doubt that a great deal of iron will be brought over from Europe, but I am convinced that imports will not assume the proportions predicted by some alarmists."

Only New Companies Need Worry.

In reference to the iron ore situation, about which a great deal was heard a fortnight ago, a prominent manufacturing interest today said:

"All the old established steel companies are independent in this matter of ore supplies and have no concern in this current controversy. Many companies that depend upon other concerns for their ore were wise enough to make contracts guaranteeing them ample supplies for periods ranging from five to ten years. The new companies are the ones that need to worry. The United States Steel Corporation, however, is reasonable—you might say generous—in this matter, and will not go out of its way to embarrass competitors. Talk of an ore famine is unwarranted by facts."

Lackawanna's Change of Base.

The closing of the last of its furnaces in Scranton last week marked the official exit of the Lackawanna Iron & Steel Company from Pennsylvania. Hereafter the company's headquarters will be in West Seneca, Erie county, N. Y.

A further formality incident to the removal of the concern from Pennsylvania to New York was the incorporation today of the Lackawanna Iron & Steel Company with a capital of $40,000,000, under the laws of this state. Its charter was filed at Albany today. The directors named in the papers of incorporation are H. McK. Twombley and D. O. Mills of New York, Hamilton McK. Taylor of Newport, J. C. McCullough of North Bennington, H. Walters of Baltimore and Samuel Mather of Cleveland.

Today's Bank Statement.

The intervention this week of an extra holiday makes forecasts of the bank statement doubly uncertain. The known movements of money indicate that the banks have gained somewhere between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 cash on the week ended today, to which $8,250,000 came from the sub-treasury. This shows that the movement of funds from the interior hither has fallen below recent rates, significance is attached to this, however, in view of the large transactions banks are understood to have had with funds.

Foreign exchange has been advancing again and further gold exports are clearly indicated. None will go Saturday, but international bankers expect that shipments will occur next week. Paris exchange on London declined fractionally today, which so altered relations between these centers and New York to make it seem inevitable that triangular transactions by which gold is withdrawn from New York on London account for shipment to Paris, will be resumed at an early date.

Wall street sharps are making no positive forecasts of the bank statement because of their ignominious failure last week. The surprising feature of last week's bank statement was the extraordinary increase of loans, and nobody knows, of course, whether further "special transactions" have not been in progress this week. Indeed, it is expected that the loan committee will show an expansion tomorrow, partly because of the pending Metropolitan deal.

E. W. HARDEN.

The paramount issue is whether the voters of Pittsburgh will indorse Stone's conversion of charter reform into a bargain sale.

News From the Mines

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—In the prospecting shaft in the Little Chieftain, Myrtle creek district, Ore., a ledge has been struck that contains a 30-inch vein that returns $1,800 a ton in free gold and sulphurets.

Ore assaying $500 gold and eight ounces silver is being taken from the Bertha Belle in Quartzburg district, Col. A four-foot ledge that assays from $200 to $300 gold and 35 ounces silver has been struck in the Dolomite, in the same locality.

The Bachelor, at Ouray, Col., has encountered a vein running 300 ounces in silver-lead ores. Several hundred feet are in sight and the vein appears continuous.

Gold nuggets valued at $350 recently were taken from the White Rock placers in Elko county, Nevada.

The Old Monster of Yellow Pine district, Nev., has passed into the possession of the Hearst estate. The mine is showing up finely under development.

The smelter at the Copper World, in San Bernadino county, Cal., is turning out 20,000 pounds of 96 to 98 per cent copper bullion weekly. Smelter returns show the ore to run 12 per cent copper. A 60-ton smelter is to be erected soon on the site of the present one.

A new rich ore chute has been discovered in the Gilt Edge, owned by the Great Northern Mining and Development Company, in which James J. Hill is largely interested, in Alder gulch, Mont. The mine has produced $30,000 a month for several years.

In a drift from the 700-foot level of the Snowflake at Tintic, Utah, several feet of ore is exposed that runs 40 per cent lead and 20 ounces of silver a ton.

Twelve inches of ore has been struck in the Parnell group at Bingham that shows $30 gold, 40 ounces silver and 5 per cent copper. This group belongs to the Highland Boy Company.

Leasers have recovered the lost ore chute in the Morning Star at Cripple Creek. The vein is three feet wide and has the signs of permanency. A small streak runs into the thousands. A half inch seam has been found on the 400-foot level of the Triumph, on Battle mountain. Assays $2,240 to the ton.

The Metal Market.

There was very little in the way of new developments in today's metal markets. The New York market for tin was a shade better at 24⅝@25c, while London improved 15s, closing at £113 15s for spot and at £114 for futures. Copper was quiet and unchanged here at 12⅜@12⅝c for lake, 12⅛@12¼c for electrolytic and 12@12⅛c for casting. London copper closed 2s 6d higher, with spot at £64 15s, and futures at £64 5s. Lead was quiet and unchanged here at 4¼c, and London was 2s 6d higher at £17 15s. Iron ruled dull but quiet here. The English markets were firmer, closing with Glasgow at 51s 6d and Middlesboro at 46s 7½d. Pig iron warrants closed here at $11 50@12 50; No. 1 foundry, northern, $17 50@18 50; No. 2 foundry, northern, $17 00@18 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $16 50@17 00; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $16 50@17 00.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Business continues to progress satisfactorily, notwithstanding heavy losses through the elements. The new year has been unusually handicapped in this way, floods and snow blockades being closely followed by fires and explosions, destroying much property and retarding traffic. It is only another evidence of the solid basis upon which the nation's industries are established that in each case plans for rebuilding on a grander scale were made before the shock of the catastrophe had fully passed. The labor agitation has distinctly improved during the past week. Disputes at woolen mills were adjusted except as to the weavers, threatened disturbance in coal mines averted, while some railway employes received voluntary advances in wages. A slight decrease of 3.5 per cent in railway earnings for the first week of February, as compared with the same week last year, was not surprising in view of the many severe storms and the diminished movement of grain.

Many Orders Going Abroad.

In the iron and steel industry it is now being demonstrated that there is such a thing as too much prosperity. During the last few years there has been such a marvelous expansion in domestic business that the capacity of furnaces and mills, as well as transporting facilities, have failed to keep pace. The result is a gradual falling behind with deliveries and a tendency of buyers to send orders abroad whenever needs are urgent. One case is now in evidence of steel rails to be delivered at Liverpool, which, after paying the duty, will cost about $2 a ton more than the regular domestic price. Yet home producers are fully sold up to about September 1. According to the Iron Age, pig iron production during January was at the record-breaking rate of 1,450,000 tons and the reduction in furnace stocks indicated that consumption was still greater.

Some Significant Figures.

It is remarkable that these stocks are now only 154,200 tons, against 670,551 tons on October 1, 1900, while during that time the weekly output increased from 225,169 tons to 340,612 tons on February 1, 1902. Unfortunately the present production is below these record-breaking figures, because the recent storm disorganized the freight movement and many furnaces are now banked through lack of coke.

An unusually large number of buyers in the Boston footwear market premises much business, though there is some hesitation about paying the recently advanced prices. In the textile industries there is notable strength and activity in staple goods despite a slight shading on raw silk. Liberal jobbing distribution of dry goods has brought a gradually expanding demand, except on southern orders, which are below expectations.

Stocks of cottons, lightweight woolen goods and worsted fabrics are short and deliveries are often later than the specified date. Print cloths advanced, but quotations are generally steady, with the tendency against buyers, and many lines of woolens have already been withdrawn.

Higher prices were the rule in the markets for the leading agricultural staples.

Interruption to movement by deep snow and the holiday was not sufficient explanation of the decrease of western receipts of wheat to 2,294,932 bushels, against 2,940,568 last year, or of corn to 1,351,800 bushels, as compared with 4,402,539 a year ago. If present high figures are not attractive enough to bring out a more liberal movement there is evidence of light supplies and prospect of continued strength.

Exports of Cereals.

On the other hand, some neutralizing influence must be recognized in exports of wheat, flour included, from all ports of the United States aggregating 3,420,826 bushels, against 3,860,051 bushels last year, while Atlantic ports sent out but 856,075 bushels of corn, compared with 3,926,052 a year ago. Cotton was even more vigorously advanced, mid uplands attaining the top point of the crop year. The late improvement will be of little benefit to producers, however, since over 8,000,000 bales have been marketed and most of the balance has undoubtedly passed into the hands of factors.

Failures for the week numbered 240 in the United States, against 257 last year, and 33 in Canada, against 40 last year.

REPORT UNOPPOSED.

Two of the Executors of $16,000,000 Plant Estate Are Excused from Further Duty.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Feb. 14.—No opposition developed in the probate court today to the acceptance of the report of the executors of the will of the late Henry B. Plant, whose estate is valued at over $16,000,000. Samuel Fessenden of Stamford, who appeared for the estate, announced that Mrs. Plant will not be represented in the proceedings by an attorney, but he handed to the court a letter from counsel from Mrs. Plant saying that she had agreed to make no protest to the filing of the report. The acceptance of the report was followed immediately by the resignation of two executors, Judge Lynde Harrison of this city and Robert J. Ervin of Georgia, both of whom handed in statements of the condition of the estate and asked to be relieved from further duty. The resignations were accepted.

After the hearings one of the attorneys said the action signified that the case would be removed to New York state for adjustment, thus ending a controversy as to the jurisdiction of Connecticut and New York courts. The three remaining executors are M. F. Plant, Mrs. Plant and G. H. Tilley.

LINES POOL ISSUES.

Transatlantic Steamship Companies Effect a Combination.

BOSTON, Feb. 14.—Announcement was made here today that a combination of transatlantic steamship companies, embracing the Dominion and Leyland lines of Boston, and the White Star, the American and the Atlantic Transport lines of New York, has been effected. The combination controls 120 steamers of all sizes.

It is described as being more of a pooling of interests than an amalgamation and is said to mean that there will be a distribution of tonnage in the different ports according to the demand. Boston interests believe this will be of great advantage to this city.

The movements of the boats of all the lines will be directed from one headquarters in London at which Henry Wedding, a director of the Leyland lines, the Atlas Transport and the American lines, will preside.

TAX DECISION DEPRESSES THE STOCK MARKET

Prices Took a Brace When Traders Learned It Was Not Final.

SEVERAL STOCKS ADVANCE

General Level of Prices Was Higher, but Some Issues Made Substantial Gains — Brooklyn Rapid Transit Made a Notable Recovery.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The reaction which developed in yesterday's stock market continued this morning, but was checked during the day, and a level of prices was established substantially above last night. The market became unsteady again and closed rather heavy. The question of a tax on stocks as collateral for call loans seemed to play an effective part in the day's dealings, yesterday's decision to collect the tax being apparently responsible for the weakness of the market this morning. Later reports that the question was still open to construction were followed by the rally in the market. The special stocks which led the recovery were apparently influenced by individual causes also.

Contest for Colorado Southern.

The dealings in Colorado Southern were on a very heavy scale. The rumor in the street to account for the movement is that competition for control of the road is going on, probably between Union Pacific and the Gould interests. The strength of Sugar was due to the decision to take up the Cuban reciprocity question in congress after the war tax reduction measure is out of the way. Baltimore & Ohio was in very active demand and more than recovered its semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent, which came off this morning. Brooklyn Rapid Transit made a notable recovery from yesterday's decline and Manhattan was strong in sympathy, but Metropolitan Street Railway fell away over a point at the last. No public announcement had been made in the street of the Metropolitan's readjustment plan. The Chicago Great Western rose from one to two points on reports that the company had acquired the St. Joseph & Grand Island.

Other Noteworthy Movements.

Southern Railway preferred rose on the belief that it is to be placed on a 5 per cent dividend basis. The advance in Southern Pacific was also resumed for over a point. Amalgamated Copper was the leader in the specialties in point of activity and dropped 1⅝ at one time. The Gilucose stocks lost 2¼ each. Some of the minor stocks which were recently advanced suffered, particularly from profit taking in the morning. Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern jumped six points on two transactions. As there have been no gold exports this week the gain in cash on the interior movement, which the sub-treasury operations is expected to be fully reflected in tomorrow's bank statement, the prospective gain being over $2,000,000. The general expectation is for a further loan expansion.

Money Hardens at Chicago.

Reports from Chicago indicate a hardening money market there and an expectation of an early return flow of money to the interior to meet the west's needs for largely increased business. The premium on New York exchange at Chicago fell to 15 cents per $1,000 today, compared with 30 cents premium yesterday. Sterling exchange hardened slightly today. The reduction in the price of gold in London shows that the pressure for gold from Paris has relaxed, which makes demand upon New York for gold improbable.

Bonds were again active, but the movement of prices was irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,545,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Local Stock Market Was Very Dull Except in Spots, the Close Being Steady

RIVER COAL BOOMED AT THE WIND-UP

Surprising Demand Sent the Common Stock Up Quite Suddenly.

FIRE PROOFING VERY DULL

Boom in Real Estate Trust Advanced the Stock $9 a Share—New High Records Made in Bank Quotations. Electric Seconds Were Lower.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday opened duller than it has been in months, and except in a few instances it dragged out a rather weary existence, closing dull but about steady for the majority of issues. The most prominent feature in the proceedings was in Monongahela River Coal common, which was exceedingly dull until 2:30 o'clock, when it suddenly became surprisingly strong and active, and under sales of over 2,000 shares went from 13⅞ to 14⅝, which price was the close, a gain of ¼ for the day. There were then bids of 14¾ for about 1,500 shares and of 15⅜ for several 100-share lots. No offers occurred under 14¾, and they were comparatively small. There was no evidence of the 6,000 and 8,000 shares which have been offering the last two or three days at 14. No reason for the sudden movement was obtainable. The preferred was not dealt in. Pittsburgh Coal common was very dull and ½ lower at 25⅝, while the preferred was firmer and fractionally higher, 622 shares changing hands. The close was at 90¾.

A center of interest was National Fire Proofing stocks, but the brokers were at sea as to what to do after reading the official circulars stating the details of the proposed increase of capital stock. The result of this uncertainty was surprising, for not a share of either stock was dealt in until after 12:30, and then the sales were few and small. The common sold 100 shares and closed at 38, a gain of ¼. The preferred sold 5 shares less and closed unchanged at 65¾. The trading in both was for cash, and the subscription rights—whatever they are worth—go with the purchasers. The management of the company was subjected to some lively criticism for its methods—especially in the closing of the transfer books on the preferred stock, which made the quotations ex-rights when there can be no rights until the stockholders vote the increase in the stock next Monday. There was also criticism of the fact that the proposed issue makes the company's preferred stock stand at $8,000,000, while the common will be only $4,500,000—a reversal of the usual positions. The regular quarterly dividend on the common 1¼ per cent—was declared.

In the banking group the upward trend was manifested again with a renewal of the boom in Real Estate Trust Company stock, which sent the price up $9 to $275—$25 higher than it was a week or so ago. There is some talk about a possible increase in the dividend rate in March, but the officials refused either to deny or affirm. They were, however, exceedingly bullish on the stock and both the president and treasurer said they would not sell any of their holdings for $276, nor would they agree to exchange it for a stock selling now many points above $400 at the end of five years. The book value is a little better than $185. Safe Deposit & Trust advanced 1½ to 107½ and Federal National bank was ½ lower at 123½. In the quotations Citizens National bank advanced $7 50 to $98 bid; Third National Bank of Allegheny $4 to $240 bid, and Dollar Savings Fund & Trust $1 to $241 bid, all being new high records.

In the remainder of the list United States Steel was the most active, selling 1,200 shares, closing with a loss of ⅛ at 44. The preferred also lost ⅛ at 94. Crucible Steels were dull and fractionally lower. American Window Glass issues passed without a trade, but the common was bid up to 48 with no offers under 48½. Electric seconds declined ⅜ to 88. Airbrake was very dull but firm and ½ higher. Union Switch & Signal preferred advanced ¼ to 98½ bid, a new high record. Bonds were dull but steady to firm.

The official closing bids and offers were:

On the exchange 75 cents a share was bid for the next dividend on 1,000 shares Window Glass common.

Preliminary estimates of the movement of currency this week indicate that the New York banks have gained $3,600,000.

Lawrence has turned buyer of River Coal common again, getting nearly 500 shares yesterday, and the bidding for over 1,000 more.

The New York market was benefited by the announcement that the officials were awaiting further instructions before attempting to enforce the loan tax.

It is closed that the promised movement in United States Steel stocks has been postponed until the market has quieted down from the disturbance caused by the internal revenue tax matter.

In New York Baltimore & Ohio was a feature in the afternoon trading and advanced easily with a good deal more activity in the stock than has been noted for some time. A strong bull argument is to be set work in it and the earnings of the road are claimed to warrant a much higher price for the stock.

Near the close A. J. Lawrence bid 14 for 1,020 River Coal common and H. C. Hall bid 14 for 1,000. Other offers for 100-share lots brought the amount wanted up to about 2,800 shares. Less than 100 offered at 14¾. The first trade of the day was 50 shares at 14. The stock closed at 14¾ bid for big blocks and 14⅞ for 100-share lots.

The trading at the first call in United States Steel common, Equitable Trust and Philadelphia Company preferred during the first half hour was interesting because of the volume and the firms doing the business. Hill & Co. took 1,100 of the steel shares, Sprotl selling 600 and Hill, Wetherson 500. Lawrence was the only buyer of Equitable Trust and McMullin the only seller of Philadelphia Company preferred.

The fifth quarterly report of the Pittsburgh Coal Company Employes' association shows that the net earnings of the association from the date of organization, December 1, 1900, to January 1, 1902, a period of 14 months, was $18,144.84. The report also shows that 844 purchasers of stock through the association now held 6,172 shares. The association has purchased and now holds in its treasury an amount of stock sufficient to meet all their best till after they have been given a fight shot. About 20 quarts of the high explosive dupid is all that is necessary to bring the desired results. On the other side of the development and southwest of the Alley-Lewis producer, the South Penn Oil Company has shot its test well on the George W. Bowers farm. The production for the ensuing 16 hours was 95 barrels.

In the "Little Germany" district the South Penn has completed No. 3 on the Smith-Richmond farm and has a 10-barrel pumper. The same company has drilled in test on the J. Neeley farm through the Gordon sand and has a duster. The same company has drilled in its tests well on the William Mason farm and has a show for an 80-barrel producer. No. 5 Joseph Utter and No. 4 Breiding heirs' farms are drilling in the top of the sand.

On west side of the Pine Grove district, in Wetzel county, the South Penn has shot its No. 3 on the Persley Martin farm and has a 30-barrel pumper.

In the Smithfield district, No. 4 on the J. W. Morris farm and No. 2 on the Jacob Cunningham farm are holding up at 126 and 129 barrels a day respectively.

South of the Beatty Mills development and one-fourth of a mile in advance of production, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test well on the William Griggs farm into the strav and the well produced 50 barrels the first 24 hours. It is now drilling in the Gordon and will be drilled to the fifth sand. T. B. Reynolds No. 2 has been shot and produced 50 barrels the first 24 hours. Reynolds No. 15, McCormick No. 3 and J. C. Colling No. 1 are the only wells in this district producing 50 or more barrels a day. The first two are holding up at 90 and 80 barrels a day respectively and the last at 60 barrels a day.

On the Ohio side, in the Graysville development, in Monroe county, F. P. Rue & Co. have drilled in their No. 3 on the M. Farnsworth farm and have a show for a 20-barrel pumper.

In the Turkey Foot extension, across the state line, in Hancock county, W. Va., operations and production are increasing. The daily output of the pool is now 600 barrels or more and will increase. The Eureka and Southwest Pipe lines are increasing their transportation facilities by laying five miles of 6-inch line. On the first of the month there were 11 rigs and drilling wells on the district and since that time the number has been doubled. The oil is found in the Berea grit at about 1,100 feet.

In the Speechley sand territory, in Butler county, the Midland Division of the South Penn Oil Company has drilled in its No. 5 on the W. W. Jamison farm. The well made a 45-barrel flow yesterday and will settle down to about the average producer.

In the Herman district, M. A. Smith & Co.'s test well on the Spohn heirs' farm is producing 10 barrels a day.

FIRST SUNDAY OF LENT IN THE CITY CHURCHES

Sermons on Seasonable Topics Will Be Features of Services.

REFERENCES TO POLITICS

Absorbing Popular Interest in Tuesday's Election Will Be Recognized by Pastors—Riverdale Presbyterian Church Is Ready for Dedication

The first Sunday in Lent will be marked in the churches of the two cities for dedicatory services and interesting sermons on seasonable topics. The pastors generally announce special services and revivals during this season.

At 10:30 tomorrow morning the new Riverdale Presbyterian church, in Shousetown, the Rev. G. P. Atwell, pastor, will be dedicated. The Rev. Dr. Isaac C. Miller of Grove City college will deliver the sermon and the congregation, in unison, will recite the service of dedication. In the evening there will be special services in charge of the superintendent of the Sunday school. Dr. S. A. Hunter of the South Side church will preach the sermon. The new church is a brick veneer structure and cost $10,000. The congregation was unfortunate last week in having its old church destroyed by fire. There was no insurance on the structure.

Miss Helen Barnes of Chicago, who is a guest of the Y. M. C. A. of this city, will speak tomorrow night in the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church. Miss Barnes is in charge of the work being done for factory girls throughout the country and is now touring the country in the interest of this peculiar field. The pastors are much interested in the civic life of the city and in numerous churches the merits of Tuesday's political battle will be weighed. The titles of some of the sermons of this type are: "Political Probity," "Civic Righteousness," "Which Side Are You On?" and others bearing on the all-absorbing topic of public opinion at the present moment.

The choir of the Bellefield Presbyterian church will sing tomorrow morning a new "Te Deum," by A. M. Foerster, and at the evening service will render "Praise the Lord," as an introductory.

Madame Barnhat, a renowned European religious worker, comes to this city under the auspices of the Allegheny County W. C. T. U. Beginning Tuesday she will speak every night during the remainder of next week in the Third Presbyterian church.

In the Hazelwood Presbyterian church the Rev. J. M. Gaston, pastor, will celebrate the fourth anniversary of his pastorate with special services in the morning. At the evening service he will deviate somewhat from his usual preaching and discuss the question "How Shall I Vote Next Tuesday?"

The Rev. John H. Prugh, pastor of Grace Reformed church, will begin a series of Lenten sermons tomorrow night on "The Christian."

Monday night next Chinese New Year's services will be held in the Eighth Street Reformed Presbyterian church, to be followed by a musical and entertainment given by the Chinese mission scholars.

The topics of the pastors' sermons of tomorrow follow:

Got 45 Cents Damages.

A verdict for 45 cents was awarded John H. Phigard in a suit against the Duquesne Garden Company. The plaintiff is colored and during the time summer opera was the fad at the garden he obtained possession of a lithograph pass. He said when he attempted to enter the garden a policeman stopped him with the remark "They don't need you in there" and "We don't allow any colored people in there," whereupon he left the place.

For Singers and Speakers.

The New Remedy for Catarrh Is Very Valuable.

A Grand Rapids gentleman who represents a prominent manufacturing concern and travels through central and southern Michigan, relates the following regarding the new catarrh cure. He says:

"After suffering from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach for several years, I heard of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets quite accidentally and, like everything else, I immediately bought a package and was decidedly surprised at the immediate relief it afforded me, and still more to find a complete cure after several weeks' use.

"I have a little son who sings in a boys' choir in one of our prominent churches, and he is greatly troubled with hoarseness and throat weakness, and on my return home from a trip I gave him a few of the tablets one Sunday morning when he had complained of hoarseness. He was delighted with their effect, removing all huskiness in a few minutes and making the voice clear and strong.

"As the tablets are very pleasant to the taste, I had no difficulty in persuading him to use them regularly.

"Our family physician told us they were an antiseptic preparation of undoubted merit and that he himself had no hesitation in using and recommending Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for any form of catarrh.

"I have since met many public speakers and professional singers who used them constantly. A prominent Detroit lawyer told me that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets kept his throat in fine shape during the most trying weather, and that he had long since discarded the use of cheap lozenges and troches on the advice of his physician that they contained so much tolu, potash and opium as to render their use a danger to health.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, composed of catarrhal antiseptics, like Red Gum, Blood Root, etc., and sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents for full treatment.

"They act upon the blood and mucous membrane, and their composition and remarkable success has won the approval of physicians, as well as thousands of sufferers from nasal catarrh, throat troubles and catarrh of stomach.

HER PROPERTY WAS MORTGAGED BY FORGER BOYD

Mrs. Hunter Leaves Extensively Advertised House to Her Daughter.

RECORD SYSTEM CHANGED

Will of the Woman Who Unearthed a Vast Swindling Scheme and Sent P. S. Boyd to the Penitentiary, Filed—Thousands of Dollars Lost.

Attorney Leander Trautman yesterday filed the will of Mrs. Sarah A. Hunter, leaving the house and lot on North Euclid avenue, which figured so extensively in the operations of Forger J. S. Boyd and which was instrumental in sending him to the penitentiary for 12 years, to her daughter, Annie Hunter Buvinger. It was through Mrs. Hunter that Boyd's operations in this city were first discovered and the many forged satisfactions of mortgages on this and other property in Pittsburgh shown up. His peculations in other cities were also brought to light and a large number of people in this city lost thousands of dollars through the scheme.

Mrs. Hunter died a few days ago and leaves a small estate, which she recovered by having the records cleared after Boyd was convicted. When Boyd's crooked work was first discovered, Judge Marshall Brown and Lezear & Ort had passed title to the property, owing to the forged satisfactions which had been entered on the books of the recorder's office. Since the scheme was shown up and it was demonstrated that satisfactions could be entered easily when forged papers were presented the recorder changed the mthod of satisfying mortgags. All persons now holding mortgages, which they wish satisfied, must produce proof that they are the proper persons to satisfy the mortgage and identification must be complete before the record is made. This prevents fraud in the future and makes certain the title to property.

Boyd, it will be remembered, went to Mrs. Hunter and negotiated for the purchase of her property, paying her a few hundred dollars cash and giving her two mortgages, one short mortgage of $4,500 to be paid in monthly installments of $100, and a long mortgage for $5,000. He then forged her name to satisfactions, had them entered as of record and moved into the house, leasing her furniture. A few weeks later he negotiated with other persons for mortgages on the house and succeeded in getting several thousand dollars. He again forged satisfactions and repeated his deal with other persons. One of the people from whom he tried to get more money became suspicious and hunted up Mrs. Hunter. She denied having satisfied any mortgages and produced checks showing that he was still paying her monthly installments on the short term mortgage. Criminal proceedings were entered, which brought to light other dealings of the same character. After a hard fight Boyd was convicted of forgery and sentenced 12 years to the penitentiary, where he is now confined.

About one year ago persons outside the penitentiary attempted to tunnel under the walls from a Sterling street house. It was suspected that Boyd was back of this, as he was known to have many thousands of dollars, but it could never be traced to him. He still has about seven years to serve.

ADJUDGED IN CONTEMPT.

Court Ordered Arrest of Jacob Shipira, a Bankrupt, Unless a Check Is Immediately Produced.

An opinion and order was made in the United States district court by Judge Joseph Buffington in the bankruptcy case of Jacob Shapira, which places the latter in contempt of court, orders his arrest by the United States marshal and imprisonment in the Allegheny county jail to await the further disposition of the court.

Shapira went into bankruptcy some weeks ago and during the investigation of his papers several numbered checks were taken by the attorney for the trustee as evidence. Shapira took one of these checks, which was made by him to B. Feldstein for $1,200 from the attorney's office and on demand by the attorney refused to give it up. At a hearing before the referee another demand was made for the check, which, being refused, the matter was taken before the court.

In his opinion the court sets forth that referees in bankruptcy are invested with the power to demand the production of documents in the proceedings before them; that the referee has the right to demand the check or checks from the bankrupt that are traced to his possession. The court says that he was satisfied by examination of the evidence that the demand for the check was fully warranted, and if upon the report of the referee to the court it is shown that Shapira has not complied with the referee's order, he shall be arrested and placed in jail for contempt of court.

This is the first time since the new bankruptcy law went into effect that such action to compel the production of papers by a bankrupt has been necessary.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Samuel McNaugher and James S. McNaugher of Allegheny, doing business as S. McNaugher & Son, showing $24,124 liabilities with no assets. Samuel McNaugher has assets of $88,150.

An order was made by the court confirming the settlement of an ejectment suit by the trustee in the case of Joseph G. Staud and Joseph Staud, Jr.

The account of Justus Mulert was filed, showing a balance of $3,500 for the creditors in the case of Charles L. Barnes.

Charles E. Lowe, Samuel W. Shrader and Joseph Rhodes of Pittsburgh and Henry Hilberg of Beaver Falls were discharged from bankruptcy.

Clothing for the Cost of the Cloth.

How is it possible? Easy enough. We simply sell as we buy. When manufacturers are forced to sell they don't stop to consider cost and value. They want money and they want it quickly. They know our facilities—our readiness to buy any stock, no matter how big, if the goods are right and the prices low enough. Within the past three weeks we thus came into possession of over 12,000 Men's Suits and Overcoats, for which we paid an average of only 57c on the dollar. No other house would have dared to buy such a big lot of goods so late in the season. We not only dared, but are willing to buy more of the same high class goods at the same price concession because we know that there are enough men in Pittsburgh willing to buy high class clothing for scarcely more than half price, to enable us to dispose of any quantity—even thus late. True, there are other sales going on in Pittsburgh—lots of them—but the average man knows only too well that there's but one genuine Reduction Sale, worthy the name, and that's here.

We absolutely Guarantee Every Suit or Overcoat in Our Stock to be marked at a lower price than the same quality can be bought for elsewhere, and, besides this, we offer the following reductions from our Marked Prices:

A Reduction of $3 On Every Suit or Overcoat Marked $8
A Reduction of $5 On Every Suit or Overcoat Marked $12
A Reduction of $6 On Every Suit or Overcoat Marked $16
A Reduction of $10 On Every Suit or Overcoat Marked $25

And, if after taking your purchase home, you are not entirely satisfied with the same, bring it back and get your money refunded. You can't—simply CAN'T run any risk buying goods here.
